Chester To Vote On Assessment For Park's Use

Chester voters will decide a proposed 50-cent a month household assessment for the City Park in a special election Tuesday.

The single voting location at the City Hall will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., manned by volunteer workers.

A 60 per cent approval will be required to pass the assessment, designed to produce $6,000 annually from the some 1,000 homes in the city. The assessment would be for a three-year period.

At present, the park receives $1,400 annually from Council.

The Central Park Committee, a representative group backing the assessment, estimated it costs $7,000 to properly maintain and improve the park.

This includes $3,000 for building maintenance and depreciation; $800 to maintain the grounds — including small buildings, fence, lights and picnic facilities; $1,200 for a caretaker; $1,000 for lighting and heat, and $1,000 for improvements.

THE 50 - CENT assessment would be collected through the water office.

The City Park Commission plans to erect picnic shelters and construct a boating inlet among other projects for the future.

The 12-acre tract was obtained by the volunteer firemen in 1954 for $12,000, and later deeded to the city as a recreation site.

The grounds include the Community Building, picnic areas and fireplaces, ball fields, a playground and other recreation areas.

THE CENTRAL Park Committee estimates the park represents a $133,000 investment so far — $12,000 for the land, $60,000 for buildings and equipment; $3,000 donated by school youngsters, $48,000 donated by businesses, civic groups and individuals, and $10,000 in time and labor donated.

A circular outlining the park project and voting information has been prepared by the Central Committee and is to be distributed Saturday by Scout groups.

Poll workers have been designated for the five polls to be located together at the City Hall.

Mrs. William Erlitz is the judge of election.

THE VOLUNTEER workers include Mrs. Martha Glass, Mrs. Robert Mack, Jack Berry, Mrs. Edward Huff, Mrs. Robert Burch, Mrs. John Pinney, Mrs. W. L. Mansfield.

Mrs. Clarence Mountjoy, Mrs. Donald Hissam, Mrs. James Paisley, Mrs. John Abrams, Mrs. Howard Long, Mrs. W. H. Lewis, Mrs. Harold Staley.

Mrs. Garnet Ash, Mrs. Robert Aken, Mrs. Charles Dierhorst, Mrs. C. O. Comm, Mrs. Mary Sturgis and Mrs. Thomas Ridge.

Nation Marks Time

New Viet Junta Faces Huge Job

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam marked time today as Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's new military junta faced a major job of government reorganization, threats of heightened Viet Cong attack and the possibility of more army power struggles.

The nation continued its business on momentum following the army corps commander's seizure of power Thursday in a quick, bloodless coup.

Khanh, 37, who vowed to step up the war against the Communist guerrillas, appointed a 35-member military junta. There was no announcement of who would hold the key posts.

The tanks and troops that helped overthrow the old junta disappeared from Saigon today.

Most people had paid scant attention to developments.

As the new regime slapped posters on walls and broadcast slogans over the radio, one Vietnamese official commented: "This kind of thing has been going on so long and so often we Saigonese are a little bored."

Khanh today made his first public appearance since the coup. He went to the Saigon airport to say goodbye to Gen. Le Van Ty, who reportedly is going to the United States for medical treatment.

Khanh appointed 17 generals and 18 colonels to a new revolutionary council, replacing the three-month-old junta of Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, provisional chief of state.

Minh, popular leader of the generals' revolt against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem Nov. 1-2, was ousted after he refused to continue as figurehead chairman of the new junta. Minh was not arrested, however.

Khanh also dismissed Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho, the government's civilian leader who has held public office continuously since Diem's fall.

Re-Aim Off-Course Spacecraft

'Probably Will Hit Moon,' Scientists Say Of Ranger

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Space scientists re-aimed the off - course camera - carrying Ranger 6 by remote control early today and later said "we probably will hit the moon."

Dr. William Pickering, director of Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which is controlling the flight, said "the midcourse correction seemed normal."

"Everything continues to look very good," said Pickering. "On the basis of information radioed back by the spacecraft, I can say that we probably will hit the moon."

Signals pointing the spacecraft dead center at the moon and igniting its small booster rocket were flashed 101,000 miles across space at 12:30 a.m., almost 17 hours after the launching at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

At 1 a.m., officials announced that the signals had been received by the spacecraft and that the 50-pound-thrust booster rocket had ignited.

Plans called for this to increase the spacecraft's 4,343 mile-an-hour-speed by 92 m.p.h. and thus pull the trajectory toward the center of the moon.

Prior to the maneuver, Ranger 6 was on a course that would have missed the moon by 600 miles.

Ranger 6 carried six television cameras designed to snap up to 3,000 closeup pictures of the moon in the final 10 minutes of its flight.

These would be the closest pictures yet taken of the moon's surface. The Soviet Lunik 3 photographed the back side of the moon in 1959, but from an altitude of 4,000 miles.

Earthbound telescopes have been unable to see even objects as large as aircraft carriers on the moon. Pictures taken by Ranger's cameras in the last few seconds before impact should distinguish objects as small as a card table.

Such fine detail would give scientists a better idea of the lunar surface where American

Plan Pushed For Neutral Asian Area

De Gaulle Says Ties With Red China Are Needed To Gain It

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle today advocated the neutralization of Southeast Asia and said relations with Red China are necessary to achieve it.

Speaking to a crowded news conference, De Gaulle thus defended his decision earlier this week to establish diplomatic relations with the Chinese Communist regime.

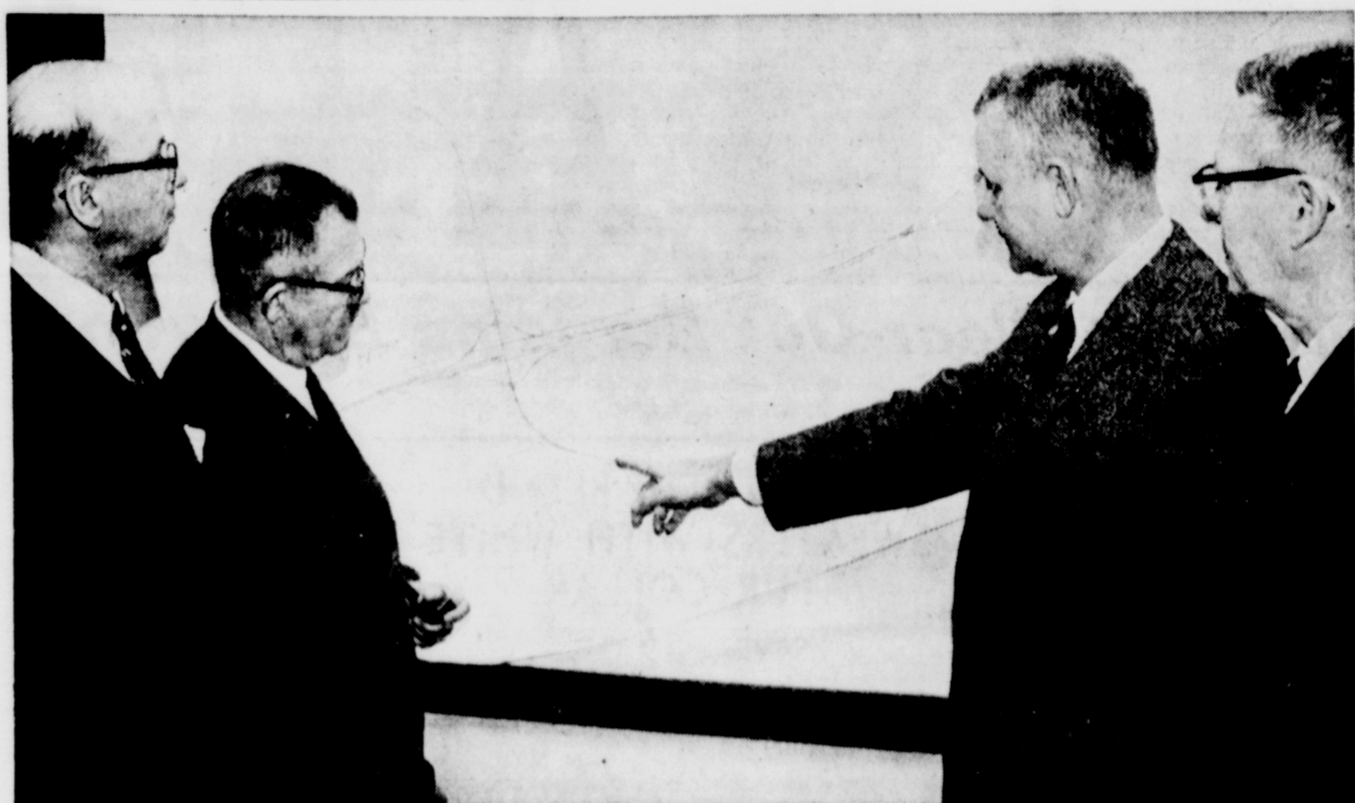

He declined to comment on the two-Chinas issue — that is recognizing both the Chinese Communist and Nationalist regimes.

In a news statement which took him more than an hour and a half to read he spent only about five minutes on the Chinese issue.

De Gaulle was careful, at two or three points, to describe the Chinese Communist regime as "Peking" or "peoples' China."

Speaking of China in general, De Gaulle said it is impossible for France or the West to have any policy for Southeast Asia or even for the Soviet Union that does not take China's influence into account.

For Southeast Asia, he mentioned Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, India, Pakistan and Burma.

West Virginia Budget Waits House Okay

Senate's Approval Due Saturday; Blue Law Wins Passage

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The House expected to pass today its version of the state budget for the next fiscal year, while the Senate version—running one day later—was scheduled to make its first appearance on the floor.

The House planned to complete amendment and passage action on its budget bill in one sitting today. The Senate probably will do the same tomorrow with the version its Finance Committee hoped to send to the floor today.

The mechanics of getting the difference will be completed the first of next week. Midnight next Thursday is the adjournment deadline for the 30 - day legislative session, although the lawmakers can continue longer, if necessary, in an extension.

Start Seen By '65 3rd Stage Aired On Road To Lake

The $5 million third southern stage of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway, a 3.2-mile stretch running from Route 170 at Substation to Route 267 near Apples Corners, is expected to be under construction by 1965, a delegation of 85 was told when the State Highway Department held a formal public hearing on the project Thursday at Lisbon Village Hall.

Running through St. Clair and Madison Townships, the proposed line is a relocation of present Route 30. It will eliminate the dangerous Cannons Mills Hill, scene of many crashes and several fatalities in recent years.

THE PROPOSED route will be a short distance east of existing Route 30 from Route 170 north for about a mile. Then the proposed route turns west and roughly parallels existing Route 30 for a couple of miles. Turning north, it will join an interchange at a point between the existing junction of Routes 267 and 30 and the junction of Routes 7 and 30. Routes 267 and 7 will be relocated to join the proposed Route 30 interchange.

When completed, the new East Liverpool-Ashtabula highway will go on the state's books as State Route 11. For much of its length, it will be a limited access, four-lane highway. In stretches where two lanes are built in the original project, right-of-way will be acquired for eventual expansion to four lanes.

THE FIRST southern stage of the lake-river road is the so-called West End - California Hollow Freeway in East Liverpool, stretching from W. 3rd and Monroe Sts. to the north city limits. It was dedicated over a year ago.

The second southern stage runs from the city limits north to the junction of Routes 267 and 30.

Snyder Files As 16th Entry For Primary

County Engineer's Bid Made As GOP For Another Term

County Engineer Charles O. Snyder of Salem filed Thursday with the County Election Board, seeking renomination to a new term at the May 5 Republican primaries.

Snyder's entry brought to 16 the number filed officially for county offices in the primaries. The filing deadline is Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Snyder is seeking his seventh term. Prior to becoming county engineer, he worked 23 years with the State Highway Department, except for two years during which he served in World War I. He has resided in Salem all his life.

John Ursu of Salem filed Dec. 30 for the Democratic nomination for county engineer. He sought the same post unsuccessfully four years ago.

$5.8 Billion Fund Urged In Program

Takes Firm Stand On Intervention By Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Congress today the government should extend a bigger helping hand to the nation's farmers. He called for broader federal payments to them and urged efforts for reducing rural poverty.

The President sent his views to Capitol Hill in a special farm message.

In taking a firm stand in support of federal intervention in agriculture, he may have laid down the line for his party's election-year battle on the farm issue. He asked for revival of part of the controversial Brannan Plan.

Many Republicans and some farm groups want the government to make a gradual withdrawal from government price, production and marketing control programs for agriculture.

Johnson's proposals for commodity programs contained no surprises for farm leaders. They were in line with those advanced last year by the late President John F. Kennedy and by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Key recommendations included: —Changes in the commodity programs for cotton, wheat, milk and potatoes. The revisions are aimed at improving the income of the producers of these products and at strengthening the family farm.

—A five-year extension of the Food for Peace program and an expansion of the domestic food stamp program. More than $12 billion in farm surpluses was moved to needy countries under the Food for Peace plan. The stamp plan enables needy persons to buy increased quantities of food at regular grocery stores.

Fatal Fire's Origin Not Determined

BERGHOLZ — Volunteer firemen still are uncertain of the cause of a blaze that claimed the lives of three youngsters early Thursday at a two - story frame home on Main St.

Fire Chief Charles Gervason said he has not turned up any evidence of an explosion which was believed to have preceded the fire in which three children of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Ash perished.

Mr. and Mrs. Ash and a daughter, Barbara, 5, leaped to safety from the porch roof, and the father was driven back by flames when he attempted to save Richard, 13, Dianne, 11, and Debbie, 10, who were trapped in the upstairs of the seven-room home.

Neighbors said they thought they heard an explosion before the fire, but investigations by firemen have not turned up any

School Integration Dispute Triggered Violence

Cleveland Racial Situation Eases

CLEVELAND (AP) — This city's tense racial situation, triggered by a school integration dispute, eased somewhat today following the most violent racial demonstration seen here in several years.

Civil rights groups announced they would make no further effort for the time being to picket a public school in "Little Italy" on the East Side, scene of the day-long unrest Thursday.

However, the United Freedom Movement, a civil rights group, said there would be picketing and sit-ins at the downtown School Board headquarters.

The UFM said it rejected a board proposal for settling the crisis and said a new program of direct action was planned to support demands for immediate integration of Negro pupils transported by bus from overcrowded Hazeldehl School to three predominantly white schools.

More than 400 people, aroused by the civil rights groups threat to picket the predominantly white Murray Hill Public School.

3 Students And 4 Of Faculty To Screen Future Speakers

CINCINNATI (AP)—A committee of three students and four faculty members now has the responsibility of screening prospective off-campus speakers for student organizations at the University of Cincinnati. The policy change was announced Thursday after a special meeting of the UC Board of Directors. The meeting followed a flareup Wednesday over plans by a student group to ask Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama to speak. The previous policy left the decision on inviting outside speakers with the official faculty advisor of student organizations. That policy, UC President Walter C. Langsam said, was changed because "it was felt that we were asking too much of any one faculty advisor by placing on him the whole burden of deciding what was properly dignified, ethical and educational to deserve the facilities, dignity and publicity value of the university."

The Young American for Freedom announced they had planned to invite Gov. Wallace to speak Feb. 11. YAF Chairman Jeffery Spragens claimed that the group's faculty advisor, Prof. Raymond F. Eling, "was pressured" not to issue the invitation because of the Southern governor's outspoken approval of racial segregation.

Guilford Lake Residents Incensed Over New Rates

LISBON — The new dock and boat tie — stake rates for state lakes had Guilford Lake residents storming Thursday night at a meeting of the New Guilford Lake Civic Association.

Charles Gause, president, had to rap for order often as comments flared from all sides of the Guilford fire station, crowded by over 100 persons.

State Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, a candidate for an eighth term, was caught in the middle. He was there to tell about the workings of the legislature and answer questions from the floor.

He advised the group the Legislature has nothing to do with the regulations for state lakes, but he agreed to relay the association's opposition to the Department of Natural Resources Division of Parks and Recreation.

The new seasonal rates — approximately three times what they were last year, are $18 for each boat moored to a dock, and $10 for a tie-up stake at the shoreline.

The state's answer to the association's letter of objection to the division was read last night by Gause.

E. J. Gephard, acting chief, wrote that the new regulations were established after a study of rates at private lakes and Lake Erie and, in the department's opinion, are not excessive. He emphasized that Guilford, like the other state lakes, is maintained for public use and that residents obtain a special advantage by having their own docks and tie-up places.

The association also had objected to the $3 per boat fee for commercial operators of boat landings. Gephard said the fee is reasonable since rental for one day, or two at most, would recover the charge.

A final objection in the association's letter to Gephard was to a regulation banning swimming at any place other than designated beaches.

The chief recalled the drowning of an 8-year-old boy last summer off a private dock at Guilford, and he advised this did nothing to further the association's gripe that people should be allowed to swim anywhere along the lake.

The swimming rule is in effect for visitors as well as property owners and will be enforced as rigidly as possible, the chief said.

There were calls from the crowd to "boycott" the lake that boaters should buy trailers to take their crafts to and from the water instead of paying the dock or tie-up fees, and that swimmers continue to use private swimming places.

Atty. William Moore of Lisbon observed that Guilford Lake and shoreline is public property and residents there must observe the regulations if they wish to use it. He suggested that combined opposition of all state lake property owners might influence the department to schedule a rehearing.

Gephard in his letter pointed out that the new regulations were adopted only after public hearings, notices of which were given as news releases to all daily and weekly newspapers in the state.

The association's next meeting will be April 30 at the fire station.

Budget

tended session devoted exclusively to the budget.

A budget bill calling for $156.28 million in operating expenditures from general revenue in the fiscal year starting July 1 was sent to the floor yesterday by the House Finance Committee.

The total compares with $149.9 million appropriated for the current year and $156.04 million recommended in the original budget bill for next year as recommended by the Board of Public Works.

Another of this year's major legislative issues was disposed of yesterday with final enactment of a bill to beef up West Virginia's Sunday-closing law. May 3 will be the first Sunday on which the act and its increased penalties for engaging in prohibited Sunday business will be in effect.

Both houses completed action on the bill yesterday. The Senate passed it 24-7 after 20 minutes of speeches by opponents, then sent it back to the House for action on a change the Senate made in the version approved by the House last week.

The House quickly concurred in the amendment and re-passed the bill, 69-29. It now goes to Gov. W. W. Barron, whose signature is expected.

The new Sunday "blue law" act differs only in minor detail from one which was passed by the 1963 Legislature, only to be nullified by the State Supreme Court six months later.

The court cracked down on the old legislative deception of stopping the clock and held the 1963 act was of no effect because final House passage came after the legal end of the legislative session.

The bill aims specifically at discount stores. Beyond closing them on Sunday by outlawing Sunday sale of much of the merchandise they offer, the measure is not expected to make a substantial change from the present pattern of Sunday business activity in West Virginia.

Grocery stores, restaurants, drug stores and taverns will be permitted to operate Sundays. So will filling stations, manufacturing plants, mines, theaters and other recreational enterprises.

But those retail businesses permitted to remain open will find many articles on their shelves are barred from Sunday sale.

The present Sunday law's maximum penalty for violation is a $15 fine. Penalties in the new act range from a fine of $25 to $100 for a first offense to a fine of $500 to $1,000 and a possible jail term up to six months for a third offense with in two years.

Motorist Due Trial Monday

A Municipal Court hearing is scheduled Monday at 9 a. m. for Chester Pasquale, 31, of 1217 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, facing two State Highway Patrol charges as a result of a hit-skip crash last Monday on the East Liverpool - Wellsville "super road."

Pasquale is charged with reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident.

Atty. William Bush of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, told the patrol a northbound car side-swiped his southbound car and the other auto did not halt. Bush alleged the hit-skip car was traveling north in the southbound lane. Pasquale later identified himself as the driver of the other car.

Gary Richard Rayle, 825 Jefferson St., Newell, also is due for a hearing Monday at 9 a. m. on a charge of passing a halted school bus Thursday at 4:10 p. m. on State Route 267. He posted a $17.50 appearance bond after he was cited by the patrol.

A hearing on a reckless driving charge was slated today for Jerry Ray Reed, 112 Boring Ln., but it was continued until Monday at 9 a. m. Police cited the 18-year-old driver after his convertible sheared off a utility pole on Pleasant Heights Saturday night, then rammed into another.

A hearing is scheduled at 3 p. m. Monday for Robert Booth of Gaddes St., Gardendale, cited by the patrol on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance following a three-car mishap Tuesday on the Chester Bridge. Booth's hearing originally had been set for 9 a. m. Monday.

A hearing also is set tentatively Monday for Edward H. Pysniak of Hammondsville, cited at 3:52 a. m. today on a charge of crashing a traffic light at Lisbon and W. 8th Sts.

The home was old, but had been improved by Ash, a science teacher at Springfield Local High School. No estimate was made of property damage, although the house was destroyed.

Services for the three youngsters will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the United Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Loman Fish, pastor, and the Rev. Eli Takesian of Amsterdam.

Burial will be in Union Cemetery in Steubenville. The Robbins Funeral Home in Bergholz is in charge of arrangements.

STUEBENVILLE — The Ohio Power Co. said concrete pouring should commence March 15 for its new Cardinal Plant generating facility at Brilliant, where ground was broken Nov. 4 for the 1,230,000 - kilowatt unit.

The Great Lakes Construction Co. of Cleveland has moved about 600,000 cubic yards of earth in the excavating, using 61 pieces of equipment with 150 men now employed.

The number will double by late April and should reach 800 by fall with approximately 1,700 at work by mid-1965. Bids have been received for general construction and the contract probably will be awarded this month.

The two southbound lanes of the second stage now are in use. Need for further work has delayed opening of the two northbound lanes.

The public hearing at Lisbon yesterday was conducted by Earl W. Nelson, head of the Division 11 office at New Philadelphia. He was accompanied by Sherman S. Price, design and planning engineer; Richard M. Robinson, public relations agent; Howard Pfeiffer of the right-of-way department, and Helen L. Isenberg, secretary to Nelson.

PFEIFFER is in charge of the division's relocation advisory assistance program, which will give aid to families or businesses forced to move for the new highway.

Speaking for construction of the freeway stage and requesting a start as soon as possible were:

Atty. Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool, representing the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association; E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce; H. Jud English of East Liverpool, assistant manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

Galen Greenstein, president of the county commissioners; County Engineer Charles O. Snyder; Floyd Lower of Lisbon, chairman of the County Regional Planning Commission, and Robert Mattern, president of the St. Clair Township Development Association.

NONE OF THE persons attending the meeting spoke against the proposed changes. A transcript of the hearing will go to P. E. Masheter, highway director, for review and final decision.

Price said the engineering work should be completed by summer. Buying the right-of-way is not expected until the project is designed.

Several persons asked if the road will take their property. They were told that it is too early to tell since the right-of-way has not been drawn.

Pfeiffer offered relocation advisory assistance to anyone who may be forced to relocate because of the construction.

Statements Mailed For Property Taxes

LISBON — Statements for real estate taxes for the first half of 1963, payable before March 5, are now in the mails, according to Treasurer Vincent C. Judge.

The statements are mailed as an aid to the collection and failure to receive one is no legal defense against penalties, he said. If a person purchased property after Jan. 1 of any year, the law requires the title to appear in the former owner's name on the tax statement, including the June collection, or second half 1963 taxes.

If any person assumes the tax as part of the purchase price, the buyer must, to obtain statements, in addition to the recording of the deed, notify the treasurer's office, giving a description of the property and the name of the former owner, Judge said.

Milder Temperature To Bring Rain, Drizzle

Milder temperatures were due today, accompanied by rain or drizzle by tonight that will last through Saturday morning.

The downtown had a frosty 25 degrees at 7 a. m. but the low range tonight will be 37 to 43 degrees, with a slight cooling trend tomorrow.

Winner Chosen In Contest For Carnival Name

The Calcutta Parent-Teacher Association has announced the winner of a student competition to name the annual spring carnival April 4.

Chip Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Green of Cannons Mills, won five strips of free tickets to the carnival, which is to be "April Luau," a Hawaiian name for the theme to be used.

The second grade student received his award at a student assembly this morning at the Calcutta School from William Holden, PTA president.

Tickets will be on sale in two weeks for the carnival at which prizes will be awarded. A student king and queen will be chosen, based on the number of tickets sold.

A meeting of carnival room chairmen will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the school.

Charge Reduced For Pittsburgher

A Pittsburgh motorist cited Jan. 14 by Hancock County sheriff's deputies on a charge of driving while intoxicated pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of failure to have his car under control and was fined $50 and costs Thursday night by Chester Squire W. Eugene Allison.

William A. Neff, 32, was cited after his car struck guardrails on Route 30 near Chester.

The charge of driving while intoxicated was changed to failure to have his car under control at the request of Atty. Don Donell, assistant Hancock County prosecutor.

A second charge of carrying a concealed weapon, a .22-caliber revolver, was also filed by Deputy Paul R. Cowey of the sheriff's office.

Neff waived a hearing before Squire Allison on the second charge, and it may be considered by the April term of Circuit Court.

At least three unsuccessful attempts were made to lay an Atlantic cable before finally in 1866 the S. S. Great Eastern laid a successful cable from Valentia, Ireland, to Heart's Content, Newfoundland.

material resources in rural America under programs aimed at combatting poverty, largely through greater emphasis on the Agriculture Department's rural areas development program. He said he would be more specific in a later message on poverty, but as a start recommended enlarged watershed and flood prevention programs under federal aid.

How much would his farm program cost?

Johnson had given the figures 10 days ago in his budget message. He asked $5.8 billion for over-all farm program spending in the year starting next July 1—$1.1 billion below this year's total.

Of the new total, about $1.7 billion would be spent for farm aid programs—compared with $1.9 billion this year. The rest would be spent on research, Food for Peace and other programs not providing direct payments to farmers.

An administration spokesman said the recommendations for broadened payments to increase farm income would not add to the cost of farm programs. The payments would come, he said, from savings that would result through a planned reduction in surpluses.

The President said some of the programs needed improving. Bills that would carry out his ideas are already pending in Congress.

Johnson would use what in agriculture is commonly called compensatory payments out of the treasury to augment the market income of cotton, wheat, milk and potato producers.

Such payments were a feature of a controversial farm plan advanced in 1949 by Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture under President Harry S. Truman. This plan was never accepted by Congress. It has run into bitter opposition from most Republicans, some Democrats and a number of farm groups, notably the Farm Bureau.

County Auditor Sells 603 Trailer Licenses

LISBON—A total of 603 house trailer licenses for 1964 were sold before the deadline Thursday, County Auditor Kenneth Bell said today.

Issuance of the trailer licenses in 1963 totaled 700.

Bell said his office is sending out statements on personal property taxes, but the collection will not begin before Feb. 15. The closing date will be April 30, Bell said.

On Behalf Of Junior Colleges

The Western Beaver County Area Development Committee is being far-sighted in announcing plans to press for the establishment of a junior college and technical school.

Educators throughout America are becoming more and more aware of the need for such colleges and of the benefits being derived from those already in operation.

The one point of contention seems to be over the percentage breakdown as to liberal arts and technical courses.

In an informative panel discussion on KDKA-TV Wednesday night four men who rank high in the field of education emphasized the advantages of technical schools, stating they fill a pressing need for those who graduate from high school but also who cannot continue their education at the college level, generally because of financial reasons.

They offered statistics to illustrate how such schools have been instrumental in bringing back many "dropouts" and in preventing many others from becoming "dropouts".

Also of interest during the discussion was the observation that California's well-established junior college program may have played a major role in attracting so many technological and scientific endeavors to the western state.

The same night, during another panel session in Pittsburgh, community college leaders from Maryland, Missouri and Florida placed emphasis on the liberal arts phase of the program and were critical of the present Pennsylvania community college law which specifies that state reimbursement should be based on 70 per cent technical courses and 30 per cent liberal arts courses.

One declared "this could warp your program" and urged that the law be amended.

Regardless of the controversy over courses, all were high in their praise of the junior college program.

The Western Beaver County group is endorsing a deserving project when it throws its support behind such a college for its area.

Someone Else Will Pay

Another big money year in politics has arrived. Political fund-raisers are off and running again, trying to fatten party war chests to offset the prohibitive expense of presidential election campaigning.

The same old clouds of doubt about the way we pay for our politicking will swirl in the wake of the cross-country cash crusade that comes off about this time every fourth year.

You will hear the same cries of anguish during the campaign about the way money is raised, where it comes from and the way it's spent. Both parties will be just as down at the heels when it's all over as they are today, four years after the last big ballyhoo.

FEW WILL DISAGREE that political parties need financial help, but there is all sorts of disagreement over how they should get it.

Heavy political contributions from any source breed suspicion of corruption and tag the beneficiary with a special-interest label. The source of support as much as the parties' philosophies have branded the Democrats—the labor party and the Republicans the big business party.

Blessed Be The Speechmakers

Resignation of Kevin McCann a president of Defiance College recalls his close association with Dwight D. Eisenhower. During the latter's brief academic ascendancy as president of Columbia University, he came to rely for assistance on Dr. McCann so heavily he took him along to SHAPE in Europe and ultimately to the White House.

Dr. McCann's presidency of Defiance College was a sometime thing; his principal interest until 1961 was speech-writing for President Eisenhower. It is curious his name should come into the news at this time, within a few days of the resignation of Ted Sorensen, who wrote speeches for President Kennedy.

Dr. McCann followed a tough act in federal speech-writing. Franklin D. Roosevelt's "old reliables" were Sam I. Rosenman, New York legal light, and Robert Sherwood, the playwright.

On The Level

I think Mrs. Smith is on the level. My editorial-writer pals shrugging off the senator from Maine could be wrong again.

They have been patronizing her, saying she is charming, honest, cute and deserving of everybody's admiration but as for taking her bid for a presidential nomination seriously, well, really, now...

I think she's in earnest. I think her candidacy in the New Hampshire primary in March and the Illinois primary in April could leave some of our he-politicians wishing they had never heard of Margaret Chase Smith.

Only one thing could pull the string on her bid for serious consideration — betrayal by other women.

EXCEPT FOR THAT, her candidacy looks to me like an attractive alternative to any or all of the men maneuvering to be struck by presidential lightning this year. There isn't one of them as attractive as Mrs. Smith.

Attractive? Not just the nice hair-do, the smile and the neat get-up, though they have been delighting fellow Americans for many years.

But what makes Sen. Smith most attractive to us disenchanted patriots is something else—something rarer than feminine oo-la-la. It is a streak of integrity that shines out of her like the glint on her white hair.

We disenchantees remember that famous "Declaration of Conscience" the lady delivered on the floor of the Senate when the late Joseph McCarthy was making headlines.

We recall with relish her blast against a military commission awarded to a top-notch moving picture personality.

We get a glow from the humor she displayed when a reporter asked her during the Truman administration how she'd feel if she woke up some morning and found herself in the White House. "I'd apologize

But so far, no one has come up with a better, more workable way of shaking the money tree for politics.

Attempts to float a plan for a federal subsidy for presidential campaigning never got off the ground because of squabbling over how the cash would be split.

Efforts to revive the old practice of dues-paying membership in political parties haven't paid off either.

THE IDEA of small contributions from the top down to the grass roots has gained favor in recent years. But although polls have shown that millions of American families would be willing to contribute $5 to the party of their choice, the hard fact is that only about 2 per cent of U.S. voters now contribute to political campaigns. Ninety per cent of all campaign spending comes from about one per cent of the electorate.

So, until something better comes along, fund-raisers will be making their pitch again this year to that well-heeled one per cent.

Most of us will sit on our pocketbooks in the meantime and scream from the sidelines because someone else is paying the high cost of modern political campaigning.

President Truman never had a noted writer while he was in the White House, which helps to explain why he never had a noted style. He was helped by Clark Gifford, who now is helping President Johnson. It still is indeterminate what President Johnson will do, though he is known to be dependent on writers for both style and content.

Is there anything wrong with this practice?

Apparently, no one is bothered by it any more, though at one time it was shocking to realize public speeches were not composed by the men who delivered them and were responsible for what they said.

In an era when everybody who appears on television reads a cue card, it's no surprise to know the politicians who appear there are reading another man's speeches on their cards and teleprompters.

By Truman Twill

to Mrs. Truman and go home," she chuckled.

We remember the campaign she plodded through with a broken arm, not even missing the speech she had been scheduled to make the day the accident occurred.

NO ONE ever has caught her in untenable position in politics. There has been no doubt of her honesty, either financial or intellectual.

If she were going through the motions of being a presidential candidate for publicity, it would be out of character. If she were doing it for kicks, that would be out of character; she always has played to win and always has won.

Only one thing could crab her act—betrayal by other women. If they refuse to take her seriously—if they pooch-pooch her assertion that women have as much right to bid for the presidency as men—she's a goner.

Otherwise, she's a shoo-in, editorial writers to the contrary notwithstanding. The GOP convention will have to pay attention to her.

The Hand That Rocked The Cradle

Oil Workers Seek More Security

By Victor Riesel

DENVER There's a big national union here which does not want higher wages for its people this year.

However, leaders of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, one of the few unions with Western headquarters aren't exactly making this "be-kind-to-industry-year." Their new demands of the oil refining and digging companies are heavy as well as a preview of the future of collective bargaining in industries being swiftly automated by the electronic brain machinery of the future.

The oil workers want more job security not more money, when their contracts with most of the industry expire this June. For such security they are prepared to strike the oil refineries this summer—right in the midst of the presidential campaign.

What makes their new demands intriguing and significant are the stratagems they've devised for preventing layoffs.

FOR EXAMPLE, the oil workers will ask "double time and a half" pay for overtime work. "If we can make overtime too expensive for the companies," President O. A. (Jack) Knight told me, "they will have to hire more people."

At present the oil industry is running an average of 3.4 hours overtime per employee per week, and the chemical industry 2.7 hours. Wipe out this overtime and we would have 40,000 additional jobs in these industries."

Another unique union suggestion is the creation of "more vigorous safety committees to guard against new dangers arising from under-manning of plants."

Obviously the union leaders plan to fight the cutting of manpower around the refineries and oil digging rigs on the grounds that it's dangerous. If the union wins representation on such fight for official declarations from the committees that any reduction in manpower is hazardous.

Furthermore, the union is asking the employers to agree not to lay off any men without first beginning to negotiate with it 60 days in advance.

The union wants the right to break the collective bargaining contract with the company if no agreement is reached. This, in effect, would give the union veto power over layoffs.

THERE ALSO is a demand for guaranteed work for five additional years after a man is officially laid off.

The union puts it this way: If a union man has at least two years on the job and is laid off, he should be retained by the company at full salary for two years — or for three years if he has three years on the payroll at the time of his discharge. The maximum would be five years.

Thus, if the union should win such a clause, men with anywhere from two to five years tenure would have a guaranteed future wage equivalent to the amount of time they actually worked for the oil company.

The union, furthermore, is saying that employees such as supervisors and technicians who are not members of the Oil Workers Union should not have seniority protection. I interpret this to mean that the union wants these non-members to be laid off rather than the union members — who could then be given the supervisors' and technicians' positions.

THEN THERE is the bid for longer vacations. "Longer vacations mean fewer work hours a year and the need for more employees in each plant," according to Jack Knight.

"In a smaller way it accomplishes the same end as shortening the work week."

In addition, the union wants bigger severance pay, full payment by the company for hospital and medical insurance and higher pensions. Even without a wage increase, these demands would raise payroll expenses at least by 5 per cent.

"Security, plus better protection against skyrocketing medical bills and more adequate pensions, is of more interest to our members than wages," Mr. Knight added.

Basically these are the types of demands over which the industrial "wars" of the future will be fought.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

There appeared recently an account of our meeting of OAPSE and The Review printed in a school custodian union meeting. Our group is an association, not affiliated with any union.

OAPSE means "Ohio Association of Public School Employees." Its purpose is to promote the interest of public schools, to advance standards of non-teaching school personnel, and to help secure conditions necessary to the greatest efficiency of non-teaching school employees and the school.

Nothing in this article shall be construed as taking cognizance of local problems unless statewide principle is involved.

Its objectives are to create public opinion which will demand increasingly better public schools, to promote personal growth and develop professional attitudes on parts of its members, to work for equitable salaries for all non-teaching employees, to provide secure tenure for workers with proven ability, to constantly review retirement allowances, survivors benefits and disability pensions, to secure adequate financial support for our schools, to create better understanding of non-teaching and teaching and to secure proper recognition for all non-teaching employees.

All our proposals must be good for our people and public schools.

The Association has provided many privileges to employees: the retirement system, sick leaves, disability benefits, survivor benefits, employment contracts, vacation (minimum), lunch rooms (made part of school system), liability insurance (driver of board-owned bus), increased retirement benefits (for those who have retired), jury duty pay, contract and salary notice dates, increasingly greater recognition for non-teachers, and also 40-hour work week for all school workers.

JAMES H. LAWRENCE
President, OAPSE

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We would like to give all people of the tri-state area, who are interested in the prayer ruling, to join with us in writing our Congressmen, to ask their support in backing the Becker Resolution.

It would amend the First Amendment to the Constitution. The First Amendment teaches that a government neutral in the field of religion better serves all religions. For a country founded on the freedom of religion we believe this amendment is an advantage to the atheists. By supporting the Becker Resolution we can exercise our freedom of democracy and uphold the prayers of our founding fathers, who believed in freedom of religion, and speech, for all men.

So let's all get busy and write our Congressmen, asking them to support this resolution to keep prayer and Bible reading in our schools. "In God We Trust" on our coins, and giving us the privilege of showing the world this is a "God-fearing" nation, proud of our freedom of religion.

The Vice Presidency

By David Lawrence

People Should Select White House Successor

Almost all of the proposals that have been made recently about picking a vice president in case a vacancy occurs in that office seems to ignore the basic principle on which the American republic was founded — namely, that the people should choose both their president and vice president.

Since a vacancy might occur suddenly in the vice presidency and there would be no time for an election, the logical alternative is to place the responsibility of selection on the representatives of the people—the Congress of the United States.

Yet many of the plans now being suggested would give the incoming president himself, instead of Congress, the right to select a possible successor. Also, objections are raised to the idea of letting Congress pick a successor because the majority in both houses might happen to be of a political party different from that of the incumbent president.

These very phases of the debate now going on reveal a failure to differentiate between an oligarchy and a democracy.

There are, for instance, proponents of a plan whereby the president would nominate his own successor and then Congress would be permitted to vote on it. Other plans have been suggested which stipulate that the members of the president's cabinet should form the line of succession. Somehow or other, very few of the proposals provide that the people should do their own choosing—as is the case in many of the English-speaking democracies throughout the world.

THERE HAVE BEEN some proposals made that two vice presidents should be elected along with the president in national elections every four years. This hardly would strengthen the chances of getting a good man in the White House in an emergency. In fact, there has been relatively little attention paid in recent years to qualifications of vice presidential nominees. Now that the debate over presidential succession has arisen, doubtless for a while more thought will be given to whether a vice presidential aspirant really does have the capacity to make a good president.

Any plan for a constitutional amendment that does not give the people or their representatives in Congress a direct voice in the selection of the president of the United States is bound to be turned down by Congress itself.

Any new constitutional amendment could provide that Congress must select a successor to the outgoing vice president within 60 days after the vacancy has occurred. This would give ample time for the members to ascertain public sentiment in their respective districts or states.

As for the argument that one political party might be in control of Congress while the presidency was of another political complexion, the truth is that when the nation has elected a majority from one party in both houses of Congress, the will of the people has thus been expressed on national policies. The incumbent party in Congress should, therefore, have the right in an emergency to pick a new vice president.

An examination of this country's experience, moreover, with divided government—a Congress of one party and a president of another — only emphasizes the fundamental defect in the existing constitutional system. It's that the people have no means of effecting a change in the executive branch of their government at a time when they may have repudiated at the polls the party of the president and elected instead a majority in both houses of Congress to reflect their wishes.

THE CHIEF REASON for the confusion that has resulted from the so-called divided government is that members of the House are elected for two years, members of the Senate for six years, and the president for four years. The original purpose was to provide continuity, but it hasn't worked out that way.

There have been many suggestions that the terms of the members of the House be lengthened to four years, and those of the Senate curtailed from six to four years, so that all members of Congress as well as the president would be voted for the same time.

But, as Woodrow Wilson wrote just a few months after he was elected to the presidency, four years is sometimes too long a term for a president and sometimes it isn't long enough. The same is true of Congress. Mr. Wilson insisted that some formula would have to be devised eventually whereby the president and his cabinet would be responsible directly to the people at periodic intervals.

What he had in mind, of course, was a modification of the parliamentary system, such as is in vogue in Canada, Great Britain and other countries.

EVEN THOUGH many students of government scoff at the parliamentary idea, the fact remains that the dilemma which has recently arisen over how to pick a new vice president serves only to accentuate the inflexibility of this country's system of selecting its chief executive.

There is no perfect answer in sight to the question of how to select a new vice president in the interval between presidential elections, but certainly any plan that gives the people's representatives in Congress the final decision is better than one that bestows such a prerogative on the incumbent president himself.

To let an incoming president pick a successor when there's a vacancy in the vice presidency is not in accord with the basic principles of representative government in a democracy.

Cleveland's Race Unrest Eases Some

swarmed into the streets of Little Italy Thursday.

Before the violence ended, two Negroes had been beaten, a number of cameramen were roughed up, windows of at least four cars were smashed and four Negroes were cut by flying glass.

A crowd of whites, expecting picketing at Murray Hill, began forming early Thursday. The pickets never reached the area, but the crowd swelled and its mood became uglier as the hours wore on.

In contrast to the groups made up mostly of mothers who greeted civil rights pickets at two other schools Wednesday, the crowd at Murray Hill was composed primarily of men and youths.

Some carried wooden clubs, baseball bats or tire irons. The crowd at times completely blocked Mayfield Road (U.S. 322) a city block from the school and roamed the streets in the area.

One of the most violent incidents took place late in the afternoon after the pickets had long since abandoned their assembly spot and while Negro children were being removed peacefully from the school.

The crowd on Mayfield Road swarmed over a car in which a Negro man and woman were riding and smashed all the windows. Police called for more men to help the force of mounted patrolmen and cruisers who had been on hand through the day.

Two arrests were made—the only arrests all day—but the two youths involved later were released to their parents.

Some of the crowd at one time surged down Mayfield Road, heading toward a parking lot about 10 blocks away, where pickets for the United Freedom Movement and Hazeldell Parents Association had gathered. Mounted police stopped the crowd, although by this time the pickets already had left.

Many of those in the unruly crowd were high school students who skipped school in the afternoon, but one elderly Murray Hill resident declared that "half these people I never saw before in my whole life."

Police reported seeing several youths who participated last summer in racial violence that was triggered by an attack on a white couple in Sowinski Park.

several miles from the Murray Hill area.

The school integration fust has been simmering since the Board of Education started two years ago transporting pupils by bus from Hazeldell. Some 800 pupils are taken each day from the badly overcrowded Hazeldell School, and parents at the other schools say they were told that these pupils would be kept in separate classrooms.

The civil rights groups have demanded complete integration at the receiving schools and rejected as too limited a plan for partial integration inaugurated this week.

Board members met with UFM and Hazeldell Parents representatives Thursday in an effort to head off picketing. There were fears that if the civil rights pickets marched on Murray Hill there would be serious rioting, bloodshed and possibly loss of life.

The picketing was delayed, then finally called off after it was announced that a proposal had been made by the school board for full integration to start next fall in the three receiving schools.

The civil rights groups met Thursday night but rejected the board offer, saying in a statement: "We cannot accept informal arrangements that fall so far short of our needs."

"The total homeroom integration that the board promised for September," the statement continued, "was shattered this evening by a statement by Board President Ralph McAllister (in a radio interview), where he indicated that the integration would be as temporary as possible subject to the building of new ghetto schools, and in which he indicated that the Hazeldell children would soon be re-segregated."

tinuously since 1930. He was vice president under Diem.

While the political maneuvering continued, U.S. military advisers feared the Communists would capitalize on the confusion to make major military gains, as they did after Diem's ouster.

At daybreak, a bomb exploded inside a U.S. military compound. Although such bombings are not unusual in Saigon, it could have been the first Communist reaction to the coup. Two Vietnamese girls were slightly injured and an official U.S. car was damaged.

Besides the Communists, Khanh faces grave dangers from within South Viet Nam's restive army.

He has arrested several key leaders of the old junta, accusing them of conspiring with France to bring about the neutralization of South Viet Nam and its reunification with North Viet Nam.

Deputies Convey Trio To Penal Institutions

LISBON — Deputy Howard Gray and Office Deputy Russell Biggins transferred three prisoners to penal institutions today to serve terms imposed in Common Pleas Court.

Edwin Blaire Groff, 22, of Lisbon was taken to the State Penitentiary at Columbus for a 1-15 year sentence for burglary of the Super-30 Drive-In Theater Sept. 21.

Floyd Mitchell Walter, 22, of Ironton R. D. 1 will serve 1-15 years at the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield for burglary of Lafferty's Market in Salineville Sept. 21.

Angelo Lee Ross, 22, of Sebring received 1-15 years at the reformatory for burglary of the Park Auto Theater in the fall of 1962. Ross had received probation but violated the terms and was sentenced.

State To Ask Beckwith Be Given Death

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The state will seek the death penalty for Byron De La Beckwith, a white man charged with murder in the slaying of Medgar Evers, a Negro civil rights leader.

Dist. Atty. William L. Waller, 37, said the state wants the death penalty in the case—one of the most controversial in Mississippi history.

Beckwith, 43, a segregationist, is accused of shooting Evers in the back with a high-powered rifle from ambush last June 12.

The all-white jury, plus an alternate juror in case one of the 12 falls ill, was sworn in Thursday. Choosing it took four days, plus three night sessions.

Beckwith's wife arrived at the Circuit Court shortly before the 12th juror was seated.

The Beckwiths showed no sign of past marital stresses and storms that led to divorces, remarriages and estrangement. He greeted her, during a court recess, with a hug and kisses.

The defendant's wife took a seat beside him at the defense table and watched the proceedings with interest.

Some of the questions asked prospective jurors provided a clear picture of what the district attorney refers to as the popular attitude toward the case.

"The victim carried on integration activities that were repulsive to you and me," said Waller. "Now, I'm asking that you consider him as just any Negro. But can you put these things out of your mind and consider only the evidence?"

Another question was: "Do you think the law ought to be upheld, regardless of who the parties involved might be?" Evers, 37, was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

He was killed as he stepped from his car at his Jackson home. It happened during an NAACP drive to crack rigid racial barriers in Jackson.

Estimates were that it would be at least four days before the jury gets the case—and perhaps more than a week.

astronauts may land by the end of this decade.

Laboratory officials said Ranger 6 would coast through space until early Sunday.

About 65 hours after launch, the spacecraft will be ordered to train its television cameras on the moon's surface. In the final 10 minutes before impact, the six cameras will begin snapping pictures at the rate of about 300 a minute.

Laboratory officials said they hope to release some of the photographs within 14 hours.

Student, 20, Claimed After Accidental Shot

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Ronald G. Campbell, 20, of Shaker Heights, shot accidentally in the back of the head, died early today in Geauga Community Hospital. He was a student at Cuyahoga Community College in Cleveland.

Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred Thursday at the state hunting grounds in Auburn Township where Campbell and three other Shaker Heights youths went for some skeet shooting.

The youths had finished their skeet shooting and William Schmidt, 18, was trying out a new .22-caliber pistol. Campbell had bent over to pick up something on the ground and straightened up just as Schmidt fired the pistol, deputies said.

Weirton Water Rate Boost To Be Studied

CHARLESTON — A hearing into Weirton's proposed water rate increase was completed Thursday before the Public Service Commission.

The case will be taken under advisement after an opportunity for filing briefs is granted.

Weirton wants to raise rates 26 per cent to help pay for new facilities.

Candidates

also were listed today by the Election Board.

Miss Esther Pinsky of Bellaire filed for a new term as Democratic State Central Committeewoman from the 18th Congressional District.

Frank Vannelle of Bellaire, Belmont County Democratic chairman, entered for 18th District delegate to the Democratic National Convention. He is pledged to support the "favorite son" candidacy of Albert Porter, Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman. He listed as his second choice for president Ermine Croskey.

The "favorite son" choice is a device to allow convention delegates to throw their support behind any real candidate at the convention.

Meanwhile, West Township trustees filed a resolution with the Election Board asking a special election on the same date as the primary on a 2-mill levy for "reconstruction, resurfacing and repair" of township roads.

The tax levy would be in effect two years. It is made up of a renewal of 1.8-mills and an increase of two-tenths of a mill.

An operating levy was filed earlier by the Columbiana Exempted Village School District for a vote May 5. Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said one or two more special issues are expected to be filed.

Eight Republican and eight Democrats comprise the fields for county offices listed to date by the Election Board.

The GOP slate includes six incumbents seeking new terms.

They are: State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon; County Commissioner Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine; Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem; Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine; County Engineer Snyder, and County Recorder Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool.

Also entered on the GOP slate are: Councilman Robert P. Kelm of Lisbon, for commissioner; and Atty. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, a member of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, for prosecuting attorney.

On the Democratic slate are: Frank C. Wilson of Wellsville and R. Max Gard of near Lisbon, both for commissioner; Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, for a new term as coroner; John Ursu of Salem, for county engineer; Edward W. Malley of Salem, for sheriff; Atty. Jack Kuhlman of Columbiana, for prosecutor; John Wargo of Summitville, for recorder, and Ford Joseph Jr. of Salem, for state representative.

A&P, Clerks Reach Accord On Contract

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Tentative agreement on a new contract between Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. and Retail Clerks District Local 698 has averted a threatened strike against the food chain.

The agreement reached Wednesday, covers 1,200 clerks at A&P supermarkets located in Summit, Medina, Portage, Wayne, Tuscarawas, Stark and Columbiana counties.

The pact provides job security, improved hospitalization, a new pension program and wage increases.

The proposed contract is expected to be ratified by the clerks at meetings Sunday.

Highway Patrol Chief Presents Two Awards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Col. Anson B. Cook, superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, presented two awards Thursday, one for outstanding duty and the other for marksmanship.

Cpl. Lewis J. Bill of the Dayton post received the superintendent's citation of merit for saving the life of Norman L. Rutledge, 44, Cullman, Ala., from freezing to death in the cab of his truck last Dec. 19. The Painesville post received the Superintendent's Trophy for superior marksmanship for having the best combat course firing record last year.

Kiwanis Club's Activities For 1963 Reviewed

A resume of activities of the Kiwanis Club during 1963 was presented by Mayor Merrill Hall, retired president, at its meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Hall listed among the major projects of the club during his presidency the youth activities work, sponsorship of the Pony League, underwriting costs of sending youngsters to the YMCA camp and organization of a new Key Club at Beaver Local High School.

The club spent over $1,800 for surgery and medical treatment for youngsters and aid to such groups as the Child Counseling Center.

Mayor Hall was introduced by Jim Walker, program chairman.

Seven members of the Chester Kiwanis Club attended for an inter-club session.

County GOP Makes

Final Plans On Dinner

LISBON — Final plans for the Lincoln Day dinner to be held Feb. 11 at the Beaver Local High School were made by the Columbiana County Republican Central Committee when it met Thursday night at the GOP headquarters.

Dr. Walter Judd, former congressman, Minnesota, will be the guest speaker.

Atty. Charles A. Pike, county chairman presided, and announced the party candidates that have already filed for office. He said "inquiry among Republicans in the county indicated that use of a county convention system was a likely device to further the hand-picking of candidates by politicians and would defeat to a large extent a free and open primary."

The reference apparently concerned the County Democratic convention to be held Saturday at Lisbon.

Brown Slated To File For U.S. Senate Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said he would file petitions today bearing 5,000 signatures from all 88 counties to qualify for the Republican U.S. senatorial nomination.

Out of deference to the Hamilton County GOP organization, Brown said he offered only one of 32 petitions bearing signatures from the home county of his announced May 5 primary election opponent, Congressman-at-large Robert Taft Jr.

Although the first to announce for senator, Brown is the second candidate to file.

William Hotchkiss, 32, of Akron led off Wednesday by filing for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

350 In 4-H Get Training

LISBON — Over 350 officers, advisors and members of Columbiana County 4-H Clubs attended the first session of the annual training conference Thursday night at Lincoln School, according to Bob Lewis, assistant county 4-H agent.

The group heard safety talks — incorrectly and correctly given — by Fred Hippely of Salem R. D. 3 and Jim Miller of Columbiana R. D. 2, respectively. The group then divided into sessions with the following in charge:

Advisors — Bob Lewis; presidents and vice presidents — Paul Gipp of Salem R. D. 3, assisted by Keith Serafy of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Becky McGary of Kensington R. D. 1.

Secretaries and treasurers — Tom Rudibock of Leetonia R. D. 1, assisted by Brenda Wilhelm of Salem R. D. 3 and Darlene McKarns of Hanover R. D. 1; recreation leaders — Sally Converse of Leetonia R. D. 2; song leaders — Sandy Hawkins of Salem R. D. 3; devotion leaders — Betty Rudibock of Leetonia R. D. 1; health and safety — Don Myers, county extension agent, and news reporters — Al Hartman of Lisbon.

Club which could not send representatives last night may attend the second April 6 at 8 p. m. with the location to be announced, Lewis said.

Bodies Of Three Airmen Brought To West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The bodies of three U.S. Air Force officers shot down over Communist East Germany were brought to West Berlin today.

A brief ceremony was held at West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport before the bodies were loaded aboard an Air Force transport to be flown to Wiesbaden, West Germany.

The fliers were stationed at Wiesbaden and their widows and children live there.

The officers, whose unarmed jet trainer was shot down Tuesday by Soviet fighters, were Lt. Col. Gerald Hannaford, 41, Austin, Tex.; Capt. Donald Millard, 33, Ukiah, Calif.; and Capt. John Lorraine, 34, Jacksonville, Fla.

The bodies and the wreckage of the twin-engine T39 trainer were to have been brought out of East Germany together. But recovery of the wreckage apparently proved more difficult than expected. Air Force authorities said it would arrive in West Berlin tonight.

The Soviets agreed Thursday to release the bodies and the wreckage.

Charged With Murder, Man Declared Insane

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Robert Cecil Adams, 47, charged with first-degree murder in the fatal beating of his landlord in Wellington Oct. 5, has been declared insane.

The ruling was made Thursday after 30 days of tests at Lima State hospital. Adams is to be returned here, probably next week, for a hearing on the report and disposition of the case.

Banquet Held At Wellsville

100 At FOP-FOPA Installation

These four were among those receiving their oath at the annual installation banquet of Wellsville Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 11 and its civilian affiliate, FOP Associates Lodge 51, Thursday night at American Legion Post 70. About 100 attended.

Other FOP officers seated were Leonard Hephner, an extra policeman, treasurer, and Deputy Sheriff Jay Carter, chaplain. Other FOPA officers installed were Bernard Ference, vice president, and Glenn Mathews, secretary-treasurer.

The installing officers were Larry Sena of Lake Milton, 2nd District trustee for the FOPA, and Glenn Hill of Canton, 2nd District trustee of the FOP.

Joe Heiney is the retiring president. Carter gave the invocation and benediction.

Atty. Warren Bettis of Salineville, a member of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission and a former state representative, was guest speaker. Bettis praised police officers and said they are not paid enough for the type of work they do. "They are dedicated men who have the interest of their communities in mind," he declared.

Sheriff Russell Van Fossan was master of ceremonies. He introduced the guests.

The committee included John Brown, Gene Clark and Montgomery for the FOPA and Wellington, Beresford and Police Chief John Hephner for the FOP. Heiney presented gifts to Bettis and Van Fossan.

Opera Society To Stage 'Fledermaus' At Chester

"Die Fledermaus," or "The Bat," famed operetta by Strauss will be presented at the Chester Junior High School Monday night at 8 under the sponsorship of the Chester Arts Club.

The production by the Beaver Valley Area Opera Society will feature five leads from New York — Louise Thomas as "Rosalinda," Lynne Fleck as "Adele," Richard Hill as "Eisenstein," Leo Goeke as "Alfred" and William Fleck as "Dr. Falke."

Lee Moorhouse of Pittsburgh, Jeanne Calder of Aliquippa and Susan Sapp of Ambridge also have parts.

A 22-member chorus is also in the opera for which Anthony Caputo is director.

The society staged "South Pacific" in November.

Mrs. Ruth Mack, Chester chairman, said members of the Chester Junior High Band will be admitted free as guests.

Settings for "The Bat" were designed by William McLafferty, Janet Dunkerly and Kristi Fontaine. Mary Lou Winlow and Helen Belich are in charge of costumes, and Harold Smith and Sue Vukich are in charge of properties.

Tickets will be available at the door, Mrs. Mack said.

Rogers Pythian Sisters Hold Installation With 50 Present

Mrs. Catherine Whelan, most excellent chief, and other officers of the Pythian Sisters were installed at the Rogers lodge hall Tuesday night with 50 attending.

Mrs. Margaret McDanel, installing officer, was assisted by Mrs. Maine Hall, grand senior, and Mrs. Ruth Fitzsimmons, grand manager.

Taking office were Miss Judy Campbell, excellent senior; Mrs. Ethel Huston, past chief; Mrs. Clair Meeks, excellent junior; Mrs. Marian Wood, protector; Mrs. Mary Wright, guard; Mrs. Jacqueline Eells, secretary, and Mrs. Etta Baker, treasurer.

Pink flowers and silver tapers decorated the table for a dinner afterward. Gifts were presented to the installing officers by Mrs. Huston, who also gave gifts to her retiring officers. Mrs. Fern Riddle of Washingtonville, district deputy, was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cowger and Mrs. Norman Wright visited at Niles Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Souders and family have moved to the farm home they purchased from Donald Paulin west of here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Long, formerly of Walnut St., returned Monday from California to Columbiana, where they will reside.

David Geer, 33, of 109 Montana Ave., Chester, suffered a cut of the left wrist on auto glass.

Brooks Firm Obtains Plant Site In Dover

A Cleveland apparel manufacturer, which had been seeking a plant location in East Liverpool, announced Thursday it would establish a pilot plant in Dover.

A spokesman for Bobbie Brooks, Inc., said plans call for establishing temporary quarters by mid-February with a pilot plant of 20,000 square feet to be erected within 90 days.

If the plant is successful, a larger plant with 40,000 square feet would be built. Employment would be increased to 125-150 later and might reach 400 in the larger operation.

The company now is negotiating with the Community Improvement Corp. of Tuscarawas County to aid in establishing the plant.

Maurice Saltsman, president, said the Dover area was selected because of the availability of potential employees, a desirable location for shipment of the finished product to Cleveland operations and general interest.

The company's plans are similar to those which were announced when it was revealed the company was seeking a site in East Liverpool.

Representatives of the firm consulted with city officials but said proposed sites were unsuitable.

4 Drivers Fined At East Palestine

Viet, Korea And Germany

Divided Nations Plagued By War, Threat Of War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—War, the threat of war and acute political tensions have plagued the divided nations of Viet Nam, Korea and Germany.

All are powder kegs in the world struggle between Communist and non-Communist forces.

They are heritages of war, mirroring the division between East and West.

Political unrest, including bloody coups, have flared in South Korea and South Viet Nam, where forces backed by the West have been struggling to establish themselves.

On the other side of the world, Communist rule prevails in North Korea and North Viet Nam.

On the other side of the world, West Germany has achieved unprecedented prosperity and emerged as a powerful force in the Western Alliance under a democratic system. East Germany is relatively poor and kept under tight Communist control — with the help of Soviet might.

How did Viet Nam, Korea and Germany become divided?

Viet Nam was divided at the 17th Parallel under an agreement reached at a 19-nation conference in Geneva in 1954 after the French defeat in Indochina. Unlike the situation in South Korea, a strong Communist guerrilla force controlled much of the countryside.

One of the decisions reached at the 1945 Potsdam conference by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union was to make the 38th Parallel the dividing line between U.S. and Soviet occupation forces in Korea.

Efforts to reach agreement on unification of Korea collapsed in May 1948, the rival regimes were established. War broke out when North Korea invaded South Korea on June 25, 1950.

Unification of Korea has been under debate at the United Nations for years. Western insistence upon free elections as a condition for unification has met with solid Communist opposition. Chances of agreement remain dim.

Germany was divided into four occupation zones after World War II, governed by the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union. Berlin was similarly divided, within the Soviet zone.

The four powers couldn't agree on a peace treaty for all of Germany. The West German Republic was born in May 1949, and granted almost complete independence. The Soviet Union declared East Germany a sovereign state in 1955 — but it has never won recognition as such from the West.

Driver Cited In Cargo Spill

A Monaca trucker whose rig spilled part of a load of steel north of Unity and a Negley driver whose car skidded backward off Bell School Rd. and hit a tree were cited Thursday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Kenneth G. Owens, 42, of Monaca was charged with dropping a load on the roadway after a chain broke on a bundle of steel on his semi-trailer rig on Route 170 a mile north of Unity and the load struck guardrails yesterday morning.

James R. Higgins, 20, of Negley R. D. 1 was cited for speed in excess of safe road conditions after his car spun around on a curve of Bell School Rd. late Wednesday night and hit a tree about two miles southeast of Route 7.

The mishap was reported to the patrol yesterday morning.

Jury Continues Deliberations In Murder Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—A jury of nine men and three women continued deliberations today in the first-degree murder trial of Curtis Bellamy, 20, of Milford, the second of three defendants to be tried in the robbery-slaying of a Hamilton County woman.

The jury received the case Thursday and deliberated 3 hours, 45 minutes before being dismissed for the night.

The prosecution has asked the death penalty.

Bellamy is charged in the May 20, 1963, death of Mrs. Emma Austing, 76, who was robbed and attacked by three men in her home.

Lester E. Swiger, 28, of Clermont County was convicted and sentenced to die earlier for his part in the crime. A third defendant, Elmer Glen Miller, 47, of Hamilton County, is scheduled to go on trial Feb. 18.

New Methods To Thwart Vandalism

According to a recent newspaper account, the Board of Education of New York City has planned to build a new junior high school that will have no windows. The reason given for building this windowless school was the desire to avoid window breakage. Last year the New York City Board of Education spent almost a million dollars to replace windows broken by vandals, presumably children and youths.

Consider how much this sum of money might have contributed to teachers' salaries, books and other equipment for school children.

In order that "there will be no feeling of claustrophobia for students or teachers," explained the architect, the school will have expanses of fixed glass wall - to - wall and floor - to - floor at the end of each corridor. But this glass will be protected by a perforated brick screen.

ANOTHER SCHOOL scheduled for construction soon will have windows facing the interior courts but none visible from the street. The windowless outer walls will consist of glazed bricks, three bricks thick, with large expanses of lattice-like aluminum screening.

What about protection of the windows in schools already built? A few schools are having their regular windows replaced by unbreakable plastic-covered glass.

But the problem of windows broken by vandals is not limited to congested areas in New York and other big cities. It is spreading to the "better" areas, even to suburbs and further out.

In that newspaper account referred to, Eugene E. Hunt, Superintendent of Design, Construction and Physical Plant for the New York City Board of Education, was reported as saying he believed the newer measures being developed would give an answer to the problem. But, he added, the big hope is that, in time, youngsters will have so much respect for public property that no such drastic protective measures will be necessary.

YET ACCORDING to the trend in recent years this hope is dim. Vandalism by children and their disregard for the rights and possessions of others, private and public, have been growing at an appalling rate all over the nation.

Obviously this anti-social phenomenon is the product of the theory and practice of excessive permissiveness in child-rearing throughout our nation over the past 40 or 50 years, especially among so-called well-educated parents.

If this epidemic of destruction by children is to be checked and if increasing juvenile delinquency is to be curbed, parents will have to resolve to restrain and discipline their offspring, beginning when the children are very young, teaching them the unambiguous meaning of the word No and to cultivate in them wholesome inhibitions as the very foundation of good citizenship.

My bulletins, "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed" and "How to Teach Your Child the Meaning of No," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Baker Probe Turns Again To Ad Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's Robert G. Baker investigation turns again today to disputed testimony about the purchase of advertising time seven years ago on an Austin, Tex., television station controlled by President Johnson's family.

Called for a hearing behind closed doors was Albert G. Young, a witness demanded by Republicans in an effort to resolve what they have called a conflict of sworn statements from White House aide Walter Jenkins and Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent.

The Senate Rules Committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, engaged in outside business dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

The dispute over advertising time on the Austin station was set off by Reynolds' testimony that he bought it in 1957 at Jenkins' request after writing a $100,000 insurance policy on Johnson's life.

Reynolds said he paid $1,208 for the time but had no use for it.

He testified he entered into an arrangement for Young, president of the Mid-Atlantic Stainless Steel Co. of Silver Spring, Md., to use it to advertise cookware his firm manufactures.

In a sworn statement to the committee, Jenkins denied knowledge of any arrangements by which Reynolds purchased advertising time on the station.

Booklet Out On Ohio Natural Resources

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Natural Resources of Ohio," a 56-page illustrated booklet, has been published by the Interior Department, Secretary Stewart L. Udall announced today.

Udall said the booklet is the fourth the department has published on the natural resources of various states.

The Ohio publication may be purchased for 45 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20402.

Shape Up With Exercise

Exercise is suddenly popular. Overweights have awakened to the fact that something dismal happens to their looks when they diet themselves thin but fail to restore tone to the big muscles of the body.

For a better shape with less weight, back up your calorie cutting with a stretch-bend-swing routine. You'll feel fit instead of fat and flabby.

The more pleasurable exercise can be made, the better. Of course, to be slimming in spots, the line of pull must be directed through the big muscles. One reader has asked which type of music is best suited to rhythm slimming. For stretching and bending, exercise to music with a slow rhythm. Try this stretch-bend on your waistline.

POSITION: Standing with feet wide apart, right arm overhead, palm of left hand on thigh, ballerina style.

Action: Slowly stretch the right arm high, pulling slim through the middle to elongate the entire waist to wishbone section. Hold the up-pull, bend smoothly sideways to the left, reaching far out with fingertips of right hand. H-o-l-d this stretch - bend through a few beats of the music. Hold the contraction for six seconds, which is a slow count of six. Come back to position, change position of hands and bend to the right side, again holding the side-bend for six slow music notes. Release ever so slowly... let the return movement be as smooth and relaxed as the exercise movement. For good measure, repeat routine twice, always holding.

For a hip slimming routine, choose a tune with a definite beat, and swing into this exercise:

POSITION: Lying on right side, legs straight down, left leg on top of right leg. Have palm of left hand braced on floor for support.

Action: Swing top leg forward, then swing rearward, free and easy. Swing forward again, rearward quite vigorous and h-o-l-d. Holding the muscle contraction helps to increase the tone in the muscle. This exercise is fun if you hit a rhythm... swing forward and back, forward, back and hold on the second swing to the rear... h-o-l-d. Swing through complete routine three times, change sides and swing.

It takes so little exercise to keep in shape, provided you take it daily.

U.S. To Call Nightclub Operator In Hoffa Trial

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The government plans to call a nightclub operator billed as a major witness to the stand today in the trial of James R.

Hoffa on jury tampering charges.

Chief prosecutor James Neal said the witness, Dallas Hall of Nashville, would be called after the jury hears a red-haired West Virginia secretary, whose appearance Thursday was cut short by defense protests.

Hoffa, president of the International Teamsters Union, and five other men are being tried before U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson on charges of attempting to fix the jury in Hoffa's 1962 trial at Nashville, Tenn., on a conspiracy charge.

Through telephone records and a parade of attractive women witnesses, the government tried Thursday to link Hoffa with two of Hoffa's codefendants — Nicholas J. Tweel of Huntington, W.Va., and Allen Dorfman of Chicago.

The government claims Hoffa and Dorfman induced Tweel to offer "money and things of value" to Hoffa if he would contact or get others to contact jurors in the Nashville trial.

Two employees of a Nashville supper club testified of a tour of nightspots with Tweel during which he talked for half an hour or so with Hoffa. They said this occurred in October 1962, the month Hoffa's trial began. It ended nine weeks later in a hung jury.

Another witness, red-haired Hazel Fulton of Huntington, W. Va., told of placing a telephone call for Tweel, then her boss, to Hoffa. But when she said that call followed one to Tweel from Dorfman, the defense objected that Miss Fulton could not possibly identify the voice on the phone as that of Dorfman, whom she had never met. Judge Wilson agreed.

The Revolutionary War lasted 80 months, the Civil War 48 months and the participation of the U. S. in World War II was 44 months.

'India' Is Subject Of Guest For Lisbon CWF Program

"India" was the subject of a program by Mrs. William Ring, guest speaker, at the general meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship Wednesday night at the First Christian Church at Lisbon, with Miss Nellie Gillis, president, presiding.

Wife of the pastor of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ and daughter of missionaries, Mrs. Ring resided in India until she was 11. She discussed the customs, government and religions.

Worship On India

The worship service led by Mrs. Robert Peterson also was on the theme of India.

Mrs. Edgar Kirk, treasurer, reported $700 of the CWF goal of $925 has been sent to the unified promotion project. Another project of the May Pritchard and Phala Moore groups, with the Silver Circle participating, is the purchase of new lights in the church basement.

Miss Gillis and Mrs. Carl Armstrong presided at the tea table, which was centered by a pastel flower arrangement. Miss Goldie Carlisle and Mrs. Paul Eells were co-chairmen.

Bridge Prizes Given

The Mercanti Club met with Mrs. Robert Leggett of W. Lincoln Way Wednesday evening. Bridge prizes were awarded Mrs. William Kessler, Mrs. Edwin Bucher and Mrs. John Jones.

Mrs. Thomas Liggett of N. Market St. will be hostess Feb. 12.

The Friendship Seven Club was entertained Wednesday evening by Mrs. Frank Hart of W. Maple St. Guests were Mrs. Vincent Weyant and Mrs. Jack Steitz.

Prizes for 500 were received by Mrs. Sally Hurd and Mrs. Weyant.

Hostess Feb. 26 will be Mrs. Hurd of Prospect St.

Johnson's Plans Attacked By Taft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Robert Taft Jr., candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator from Ohio, says the Johnson administration is trying to persuade the American people that they can have government economy, a tax cut and more federal handouts at the same time.

Taft, speaking here Thursday to Republican law students at Ohio State University, added: "It will be a neat trick if it works."

He also said the administration is attempting to persuade Congress to pass a strong civil rights bill while still keeping the Southern leadership happy.

Taft said the present administration will go down in history as "the two-way administration, or at least the administration that attempted to have it two ways."

Kathy Gets Into The Act

Kathryn Grant Crosby is all het up over the fact she is appearing on husband Bing's CBS-TV special Saturday night, Feb. 15.

"It's the first time we've worked together professionally. Oh, we do another act around the house. I cook, and he eats whatever it is. Hal Humphrey whether it's burned, raw or otherwise ruined. He's such a gentleman."

"How did you manage to get on Bing's show?" I inquired.

"HE ASKED ME. Well, it was a little more involved than that. You know Father Kiese, who does that wonderful 'Insight' series for TV. He needed a contribution, but my business manager said I didn't have the money."

"He said he could arrange for me to do a commercial on Bing's show, then I might give the money to Father Kiese. So I said if I was good enough to do the commercial, then I should be on the show. Then Bing asked me."

"And who did the commercial?"

"Bing did," said Kathryn, with a smile of womanly accomplishment.

WE CAN ASSUME that Father Kiese got his contribution. Kathryn's business manager was decorated by the Certified Public Accountants of America and Bing has another lifetime supply of toothpaste for the commercial he did.

As for Kathryn, she radiates throughout the show — dancing, singing a duet with Bing and performing in a couple of skits.

"I think you had better just say, 'She sings, in a way,' because I was pretty frightened when we taped that part of the show. There was John Scott Trotter, who before this I knew only as my antique dealer, and he now had a 100-piece orchestra with 15 choir singers."

"I NOTICED right after I started singing the choir took 10. Poor John and the orchestra had to stay, but they kept looking away from me. And right after the number was over, Bing left town," Kathryn reported.

"What did you sing?"

"It's a beautiful number called 'My Ship Has Sails,' and it sounded so good in my bedroom."

Dancing with Peter Gennaro wasn't so tough because she began as a dancer back in her native Texas. Kathryn also won so many beauty contests that the rest of Texas' young feminine crop was ready to take up a collection to get her out of the state.

SHE LEFT on her own for Hollywood in 1952, got an introduction to Paramount Studio through Roy Rogers' manager, who two years earlier had judged her winner of the Texas Rodeo Queen contest. Soon after that Kathryn interviewed Bing Crosby for a Hollywood column she was writing for a group of Texas newspapers.

Since the new Crosby offspring — Harry, 5, Mary Frances, 4, and Nathaniel, 2—seem fairly well launched, Kathryn is enthusiastic about doing a lot of TV. She has filmed a "Suspense Theater" with Cornel Wilde, due to air on NBC-TV on March 19, and other deals undoubtedly are waiting only to be "firmed up," as the agents say.

Our interview was interrupted by Bing's phoning from the new Crosby home on the San Francisco peninsula.

"ASK HIM," I said, "how he feels about all this activity of yours."

"Isn't that nice? He says tell him I like to see her do what she likes doing," says Kathryn, relaying Bing's reply.

Before hanging up, she informed Bing she was planning to attend a charity fashion show in Pittsburgh Feb. 11.

"What did he say to that?" I asked, later.

"He said, 'like heck you will!' What may be worrying him is that when I go to a fashion show I usually wind up buying the entire line," Kathryn told me, laughing.

Proves what you've always known about Hollywood, doesn't it? Just one more town with people in it like anywhere else.

Effort To Halt Sale Of Marion Hotel Rejected

MARION, Ohio (AP)—An attempt to halt sale of the Hotel Harding — Marion's largest—has been rejected in Marion County Common Pleas Court.

Judge Gwynn Sanders of Union County, sitting by assignment Thursday, denied a temporary injunction sought by David Law, Parkersburg, W. Va., oil and gas man.

Law maintained he entered into an oral contract with Fred C. Baldauf, president of the hotel corporation, to buy the 150-room hotel for $241,683.

Judge Sanders held that such an agreement was not valid because Baldauf lacked authority to commit the hotel's board of directors and its shareholders.

The board Jan. 18 announced the sale to a four-man combine that included C. R. Ludwig, Marion restaurant operator, and four out-of-state oil men presently engaged in the oil boom in neighboring Morrow County.

Purchase price was not disclosed but Law contended it was the same as the one he offered.

County Communities Due Hike In Gas Rate

Residents of Salineville, Lisbon, Salem and Columbiana, along with those in some 100 other communities, will be paying higher gas bills starting in March.

The Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., said upward adjustments made under the escalator clauses in natural gas contracts, reflect changes in the cost of gas from suppliers.

Most communities will have an increase of one-half per cent per thousand cubic feet of gas. The company said it will amount to a hike of 8 1/2 cents a month on the average bill.

Sgt. York Showing Some Improvement

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin York, 76, showed some improvement today, but he still is in serious condition, hospital authorities said.

The World War I hero was taken to the hospital Wednesday. York's physician said his life was not in danger but he needed to restore body liquids.

Ballot Bids Notice Issued For Primary

Notices have been sent to job printers advising them that the County Election Board will receive offers until 2:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 10, for furnishing ballots for the primaries May 5, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said today.

At the same time, the board expects to award contracts for poll books and other precinct supplies, O'Hanlon said.

Each polling place will be stocked with at least five ballots. There will be separate tickets listing the candidates for delegate and alternate to the Republican and Democratic National Conventions—the meetings at which Presidential and vice presidential nominees will be chosen.

There also will be Republican and Democratic ballots listing candidates for state, county and district offices. A vote is scheduled on a proposed $500 million state bond issue for road improvements.

In addition, special issues are expected in a few scattered subdivisions.

If neither Republicans nor Democrats have contests for the posts of delegates and alternates, it may be possible to place squares on the ballot in which an X could be used to vote for all the Ohio at-large delegates and another could be used to vote for those in the 18th Congressional District, O'Hanlon said.

However, if a contest develops, it would be necessary for voters to mark their ballots individually for each candidate. Tabulating the result in such a contest or contests "would be an all-night job," O'Hanlon said.

Republicans expect to have a slate of 12 at-large delegates, with two delegates and two alternates from the congressional district. The number of Democratic delegates and alternates has not been determined.

At its meeting Feb. 10, the Election Board also will pass on the validity of candidates' petitions for May 5 ballot places. The filing deadline is next Wednesday.

GOP Women's Group Plans Member Drive

The membership committee of the East Liverpool Area Republican Women's Club held a luncheon meeting Thursday afternoon at Travelers Hotel with 12 attending.

Mrs. Mildred Koehn, chairman, led discussions on plans for a membership drive.

Mrs. Dorothy Tweed, chairman, Mrs. Helen Brokaw, Mrs. Marie Tweed and Mrs. Mary Wolfe were named to the committee to arrange a public card party in April.

The committee will meet at 1 p.m. Monday at the Republican headquarters on E. 5th St.

Man Bound Over In Wife Murder After Hearing

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—Municipal Court Judge Samuel F. Hammonds has bound Robert S. Moore, 20, to the Seneca County grand jury following a preliminary hearing on a first-degree murder charge.

Police Chief James S. Meek charged Moore with murder following investigation of the death of Moore's wife, Phyllis, 19, who originally was believed to have died in a fire that destroyed their home here Jan. 8.

Dr. William Hoffman, Cuyahoga County coroner's pathologist, testified at Thursday's hearing that Mrs. Moore was stabbed before her body was burned.

Capt. Charles Lang of the Fostoria Fire Department said Mrs. Moore's body was found in front of a fuel oil heating stove and that a gasoline can was between her legs. He said the stove was intact and showed no signs of having exploded.

Dr. E. T. Sheeran, who had pronounced Mrs. Moore dead at Fostoria City Hospital, was the only defense witness. He disagreed with Dr. Hoffman's conclusions, saying the stab wound would not have caused death. He said death was due to the fire.

Moore, who rescued his two small children from the fire, told police he was driven back by the flames and smoke when he tried to save his wife. An autopsy said she had been stabbed and was alive when she suffered fatal burns.

Ohio Flood-Retarding Plan Wins Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The $5.6 million flood-retarding Rush Creek watershed project for Fairfield, Hocking and Perry counties in Ohio has been approved by a House Public Works subcommittee.

The proposal now goes to the full committee for approval and then onto the Senate Public Works Committee.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: For all those who use teakettles in which sediment collects in the bottom:

Marbles from the dime store, when placed in your teakettle and left there, work beautifully.

Others have written to put a clean white cotton cloth in the teakettle and it will absorb the sediment. We found this to be true! These are preventive measures. Naturally, change the marbles or cloth from time to time.

The best hint for removing the sediment was to put pure vinegar of an type into the kettle and let it boil for a while. This works fine. However, professionals have written to put these teakettles on the stove on SIMMER and the sediment will burn itself out! This method I finally tried and found it fantastic. . . .

HERE'S HOW: My teakettle is a dime store variety of aluminum. I put it directly on a gas burner and turned it on simmer. I'm sure that electricity will work just as well. When the kettle begins to smell: (because you have put no water, no vinegar, no nothing in it . . . the teakettle is supposed to be empty before you set it on the burner), remove it from the fire. (I left mine on the stove for about 20 minutes.) Gently tap the kettle on the bottom with a wooden spoon. Every bit of that sediment breaks loose and your teakettle is like new again inside.

DON'T BURN your teakettles. If it turns dark on the outside, take a good soap-filled steel wool pad and give it a slight scouring. Scour with the grain of the aluminum and you will have the prettiest teakettle you have ever seen.

Do not, and I repeat, DO NOT, walk out of the kitchen and go shopping, leaving the teakettle on the stove. Clean it while you are cleaning your kitchen so that you can watch it. Also be sure to use a wooden spoon to tap the bottom and if you don't have a wooden spoon you could use the end of a butcher knife. This works, too! We don't want dents, eh? HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who live in that part of the country where it snows and sleets and who leave their cars parked outside . . . I wonder if they know that those plastic bags from the dry cleaners can be used to throw across their windshield when the car is not in use?

No matter how many inches of snow falls, or how much rain, freezing weather and sleet accumulate, all one has to do is move the windshield wiper, remove the bag from the windshield and shake it out. Put bag on car floor or in your trunk for use later.

These plastic bags also are excellent to use on the window in the back of the car. The plastic will stick to the glass if given a quick wipe with the hand.

ROBERT BROWN.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a wonderful way to prepare carrots:

With a sharp knife cut away the stem end and the tip, also any spots which are deeper than the surface.

Then wrap a pad of your famous nylon net around the carrot with one hand, and holding it with the other hand, work the mesh back and forth along the entire carrot. All of the surface soil and discoloration will come off.

To remove silk from green corn on the cob:

Just wipe the corn, again with your famous nylon net, at a right angle to the length of the cob (across the rows of the corn kernels).

No kernels will be broken and the silks will be removed as well or better, than by using a knife or the fingers — and with speed, also.

MEDICAL DOCTOR.

DEAR HELOISE: When I move from one home to another I always tape the proper screws and nails to each traverse and curtain rod.

This saves hunting for them, or having to replace them, when ready to put up the rods again.

MRS. MURPHY.

DEAR HELOISE: I turned off my water pipes from the main valve last night when the temperature fell below freezing. My neighbor told me to do this, but the pipes froze and burst anyway.

I had to pay a big bill and have the pipes replaced. The plumber said "This always is happening. That's why I have to work 18 hours a day in freezing weather." That's all . . . besides the bill.

Won't tell you what I thought. How can I keep from having to pay such a bill the next time we have freezing weather?

JAY.

DEAR JAY: Yes, you can turn off the main valve. This is necessary, but next time don't forget to open those faucets and let the water drain out immediately.

The water must be drained from the pipes. After cutting off the main valve always open all the faucets and leave them that way until the water stops running. This will allow for complete drainage. Water expands when it freezes. Catch . . . now?

HELOISE.

DEAR FOLKS: When ironing curtains and hanging them over the door . . . take my advice and throw a bath towel across the top of the door before putting your clean curtains over it! How many of us dust the tops of our doors?

The bath towel will not only keep dust from getting on the curtains but will also keep another crease from being formed while you are ironing the next curtain.

HELOISE.

Youth Tells Of Flag Raising That Sparked Panama Riot

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Jim Jenkins, making what he called his last "public" appearance, told reporters here Thursday about the flag raising incident that touched off rioting in the Panama Canal Zone.

The lanky youth was the leader of American students who raised their flag at Balboa High School despite a U.S. agreement with the Panamanian government that the flags of both nations would fly at the school if any flew at all.

Jenkins, who is living with an aunt, indicated that he will try to fade into anonymity in this Eastern Ohio community. He plans to enter Cambridge High School next week to complete the one term he has to go before graduation.

The youth said he petitioned President Johnson to order the American flag flown at Balboa High School. His petition bore nearly 1,000 signatures, he said, and was mailed to the President Jan. 8. He said he has not heard from the President.

"An American flag should fly at an American school," he said, adding that Balboa is a U.S. government school and that its teachers are federal employees.

He said Panamanian students make up only about 25 per cent of the enrollment. He described them as "wealthy" or "high class" and said they pay tuition.

Jenkins said he was not pressured to leave the Canal Zone and stressed that the decision was made by his family. He said several of his Balboa classmates also came to the United States since the flag incident.

"I've been trying to get to the United States for many years," he said. "Panama is not so great. I've never been thrilled about living there."

In recapping the flag-raising incident, Jenkins said he raised the first flag—given him by a friend—at 7:15 a.m. Jan. 7, and that it flew for about an hour before school officials took it down.

The length of Long Island is about 118 miles.

Martin Slated As New Boss Of Bethlehem Steel

NEW YORK (AP) — A mechanical engineer who worked up through production channels Bethlehem Steel Corp., the na-will become the new boss of tion's No. 2 steelmaker.

He is Edmund F. Martin, 6-foot-1 balding former president who has been vice chairman of the Bethlehem board since last August. He had been named president in 1960.

Martin will become chief executive and board chairman when Arthur B. Homer retires on his 68th birthday, April 14. Martin will be the fourth man to head Bethlehem.

The appointment was made by directors Thursday after Bethlehem reported a 15 per cent gain in earnings for 1963. Profits rose to $102,462,212 or $2.11 a share from $88,677,761 or $1.80 a share. The results in 1962, a dismal year for the entire industry, were Bethlehem's poorest in 15 years.

Martin was born in 1904, the year Charles M. Schwab gave up the helm of U. S. Steel Corp. to organize Bethlehem. The company became "Big Steel's" leading rival.

Martin joined Bethlehem 19 years later—his first day out of college. He's been with the company ever since.

Appointment As Ohio Parole Chief Revoked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes has revoked the appointment of Roland R. Lutz as Ohio's interstate compact administrator of parolees from other states living here and Ohioans on parole in other states.

Lutz, chief of Ohio's Bureau of Probation and Parole, will be replaced in the interstate assignment by John W. Shoemaker, assistant bureau administrator. The action Thursday followed a shake-up of the probation and parole setup by Rhodes' administration.

Strike Threat Hangs Over TV And Radio

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Negotiator worked against a mid-night strike deadline today to avert a nationwide strike against two major radio and television networks.

Members of the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians have authorized their representatives to call a strike if necessary at midnight, EST. The networks involved are the American Broadcasting Co. and the National Broadcasting Co.

A union source said Thursday: "We are miles apart on issues of wages and jurisdictions."

Spokesmen for ABC and NBC say there are enough trained supervisory employees to keep programs on the air as scheduled if they are struck.

Most of the NBC union members are technicians. ABC membership includes white collar workers, switchboard operators, publicists, secretaries, janitors, wardrobe and makeup personnel.

The strike would start simultaneously in New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The union said it is seeking job security provisions and a wage increase to bring salaries in line with those of employees at Columbia Broadcasting System, which is represented by another union.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I didn't care for your smart-aleck remarks about boys who are named Shirley. A dear friend of mine had a son named Shirley. I admired the boy a great deal. He was the type of young man every mother wants her son to be. So, when the Lord blessed us with a boy I named him Shirley. That was 40 years ago.

Our son Shirley never had to fight his way through school or anywhere else. In fact I can't recall that he was ever in a fight.

For your information, Ann Landers, there were very few girls named Shirley until Shirley Temple came along, about 35 years ago. Before that time there were more male Shirleys than female. I think you owe all the male Shirleys an apology.—PLAIN JANE.

Why? Because what makes a really great evening is stimulating conversation, good food and warm friendship. When these three ingredients are present no one misses alcohol. Only when the hostess has failed must she turn to the liquor cabinet for help. — FIRM BELIEVER No. 2.

Dear Firm: Welcome to my corner, friend. I've never bought the idea that liquor is a must at a party. I've seen too many evening ruined because nice people got drunk and became unruly, maudlin, belligerent, foolish, sloppy, amorous, sick, insulting and just plain stupefied.

It's had enough when this happens to ordinary folks but when it happens to brilliant, lovely people, it is truly pathetic.

Are we wrong?—MOM AND DAD.

Dear Mom and Dad: Your daughter should respect your wishes—even if you lived in a puppet.

It's too bad you let No. 1 get away with it. Now I hope you have better luck with No. 2.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Plain: I didn't realize there were so many male Shirleys around until that letter appeared in print. The Shirleys didn't write to me—their mothers did. Thanks to all of you.

Teetotal Parties

Dear Ann: May I be you for just a moment and respond to "Firm Believed", the couple who have never served liquor in their home because it is against their religious teaching? They feared since they were moving to a new city and would be traveling with a faster set this practice might hurt them in business.

My husband and I have been married more than 20 years. We have entertained nationally known figures in politics, education, medicine, law, religion and business. We never have served liquor in our home and our parties are fabulously successful.

Wedding Upsetting

Dear Ann: When our eldest daughter became engaged she informed us that she wanted to be married in the home of her fiancé's parents. My husband and I wanted Marge to be married in her own home, but we were unable to persuade her to change her mind.

When she said, "Their home is nicer than ours and I want as beautiful a setting as I can have," we had nothing more to say.

Now, our second daughter is planning to do the same thing. She will be engaged in February and already she's talking about coming down the spiral staircase in the Smith home.

We are not paupers, Ann. Our home is lovely, and we can afford to have a beautiful wedding. We paid for the first wedding and we plan to pay for the second one as well. We just don't want to be asked to go to someone else's house again.

West Firemen Take Test During Training

Five second class firemen were given an examination to become first class during a training session held Wednesday night by the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department at the LaCroft station.

Milton Kountz, a captain, was in charge of the exam. Homer Cronin, assistant chief, said the department received a call at 10:05 p. m. to remain on standby for Glenmoor volunteers. A truck was sent with eight men.

Plans were made to attend a heart massage demonstration Monday night at the Calcutta department.

A business meeting will be held Wednesday night at 7:30.

Big Boost Shown For Sales Taxes

State Treasurer John D. Herbert issued a semi-monthly report today at Columbus showing big increases in Columbiana County sales tax collections.

The taxes netted $57,359 in Columbiana County in the two weeks ending Jan. 25, a gain of $9,600 from the $47,759 shown at the same time in 1963. Since the start of the fiscal year July 1, the taxes total $732,202, up $59,350 from the $672,852 shown at the same time in the preceding fiscal year.

Sales taxes on autos produced $18,434 in the county in the two weeks ending Jan. 25, down $1,723 from the $20,157 shown in the corresponding period last year. Since the start of the fiscal year, auto sales taxes total $375,684, up $35,099 from the $340,585 shown in the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year.

ACID-ALKALINE BALANCE

Q. What, if anything, can be done for an alkaline condition of body secretions?

A. Fortunately, the body is fairly well protected against radical changes in the delicately balanced acid-alkaline mechanism. The blood is slightly alkaline. Make it acid and you wouldn't survive to tell about it. The stomach is normally acid but the bile and the intestinal tract are alkaline. And so it goes. Under certain circumstances, conditions of alkalosis or acidosis may develop, but they are situations which must be dealt with by a physician. Don't try to "adjust" the acidity or alkalinity of your body — you might get into serious trouble.

"CLINIC" DEFINED

Q. This may not be a proper question but I'll send it in anyway. What is a "clinic"?

A. In some parts of the country the word "clinic" refers to free dispensaries. Most often, however, the word "clinic" is applied to the offices of several physicians who more or less pool their efforts and practice as a group. According to the American Medical Association, the ethical principles actuating and governing a group or clinic are exactly the same as those applicable to the individual physician.

Executive Board Backs Locals In 2 Ware Strikes

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today its Executive Board, comprised of 12 top officers, has sanctioned strike action taken by local unions in Somerset, Pa., and Toronto, Canada.

Local 313 is on strike against the Crane Corp. plant at Somerset. The international said its representatives and members of the local were unable to reach agreement with management. The former contract expired Jan. 15.

Local 231 is on strike against the American Standard Corp. plant in the Canadian city. The union said the local called the strike as a last resort after negotiations that started in July proved futile.

Sanction of the strikes by the Executive Board means that eligible members of both locals will be entitled to collect strike benefits.

The IBOP said it is "hoping for a successful ending" of negotiations "and a new contract for both locals."

When you choose electric heat, you lower the average cost of every other use you make of electricity!

Why so many of the new homes in this area are heated by economical electricity

... and why so many older homes around here are being converted to electric heat, too!

Electric heating qualifies you for a very low "wholesale" rate, not just for your heating costs, but it also lowers the average cost per unit of all the electricity you use.

And with electric heating you can have individual room-control of temperatures; and of course, electric heat is flameless, free from fuel film, clean and wonderfully convenient.

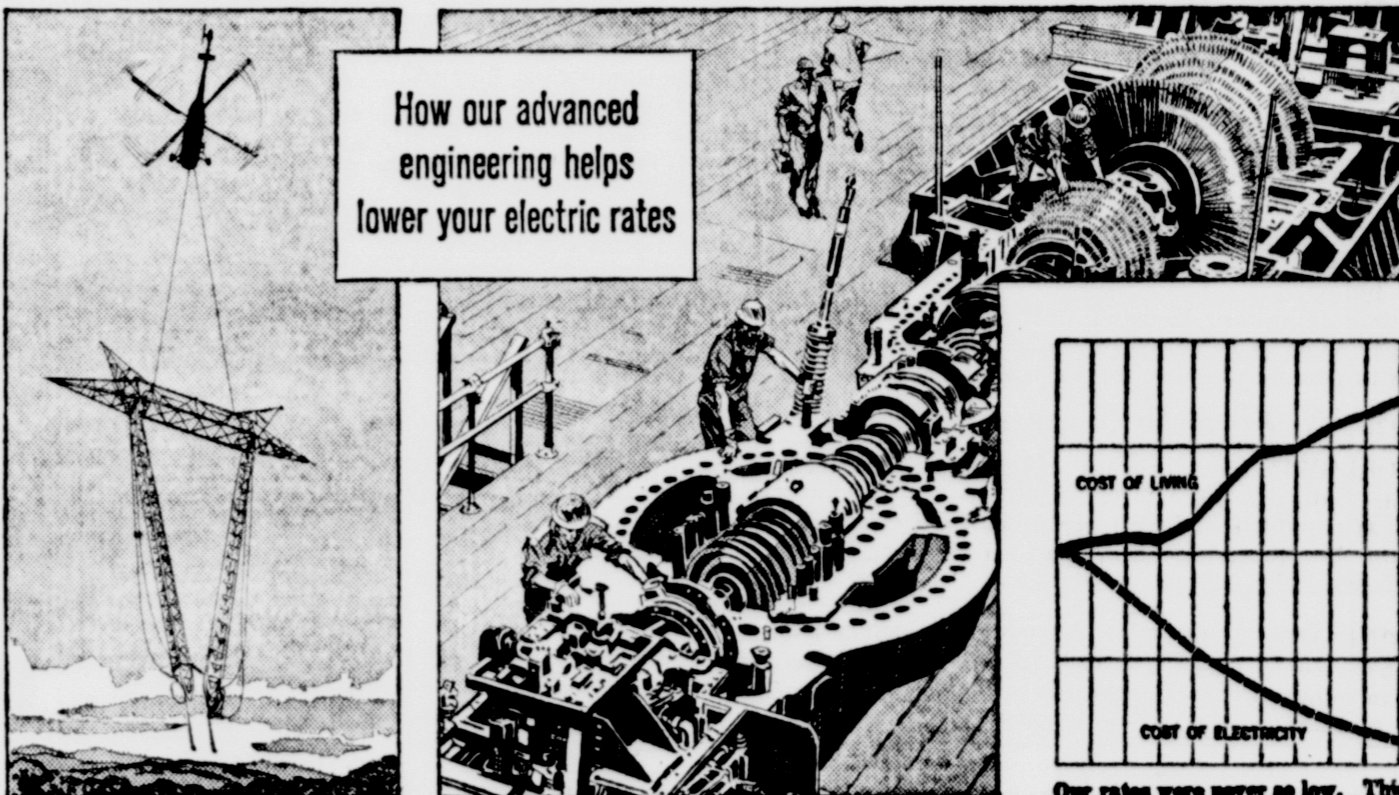

The more electricity you put to use, the less it costs you per unit!

Free booklet gives details

We have prepared a special booklet for those who would like to know more about Total Electric Living. It shows what steps you should take to get low "wholesale" rates.

There's a checklist to help you find how close you may already be to Total Electric Living. You'll read what other homeowners say about their Total Electric Homes.

This booklet is called Sooner Than You Think. For your free copy, phone us... stop in at any of our offices... or send the coupon.

How our advanced engineering helps lower your electric rates

In mountainous country, we sometimes find helicopters the least costly means of putting in power lines! Such advanced engineering techniques apply to all our operations. They help to bring low-cost electricity to our customers.

Mammoth new turbine-generator units like this one produce electric power at a lower cost per kilowatt hour. Modern equipment such as this—coupled with our advanced engineering techniques—are major reasons why your cost of electricity keeps dropping lower and lower, your electric service becomes even more dependable.

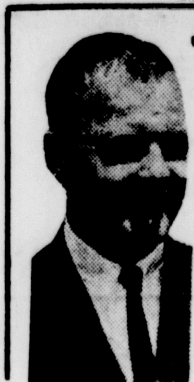

Our rates were never so low. This chart shows how the average cost per kilowatt hour of electricity has been lowered 13% in the past 10 years, while cost of living has risen 14% in the same period... and we're dedicated to continue this trend.

OHIO POWER COMPANY is a part of the American Electric Power System. This system produces more electricity than any other investor-owned utility in the United States. It serves over 2300 communities in 7 states—Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Through coordinated management and operations, progressive engineering and research, the six member companies of AEP bring you low-cost power with greatest dependability.

East Liverpool has been left holding the bag as far as the new method of selecting Ohio all-state teams goes.

Unless some action is forthcoming on an appeal to The Associated Press by yours truly, East Liverpool will find itself right smack in the middle of the highest competitive area in the state.

The new plan as we presented it two weeks ago in this column calls for the state to be divided into six districts. Outstanding players in football and basketball will be named to a district team by a board of three sports editors picked in the respective districts.

Members of the district teams then would be eligible to be named to the all-state team.

We expected East Liverpool to be placed in the Eastern district, where the Potters have been competing for many seasons. We were mistaken, however. The list distributed to sports editors throughout Ohio has East Liverpool in the Northeastern District.

The odds of getting a player from East Liverpool or the immediate area on the Northeastern squad are very slim when you take into consideration this district represented by 11 newspapers and 19 radio stations from Cleveland, Canton, Akron and Youngstown area.

If East Liverpool remained where it belonged in the Eastern District, the chances for players to gain all-district recognition would be excellent.

The Eastern District is represented by only two newspapers — Steubenville and Dover — plus four radio stations. In other words, East Liverpool would have a vote in the smallest district in the state instead of the largest.

We can't understand the reason for the change in districts. We have sent our appeal to Fritz Howell, Associated sports editor for Ohio, to see if something can't be done to put East Liverpool where it belongs. The Eastern District has less than one-fourth as much representation as the Northeastern Section.

Potters Could Finish 8-10 . . .

AS POOR as the 1963-64 edition of the Potter basketball team is, the Blue and White could wind up with an 8-10 record. It is conceivable that East Liverpool can win four of the six games remaining on the schedule.

The Potters face a Salem team tonight which has only two victories in 12 games, then meet Wellsville Saturday at Memorial Auditorium.

Next weekend it will be Toronto and Niles. Toronto is a fair outfit, but if Tom Coulter is stopped so is Toronto. Niles is another weak sister, paddling in the bottom of the Big 8 Conference cellar.

We can't expect victories over Martins Ferry or Weirton in the two final home games of the season.

Savage Seeks Title . . .

BILL SAVAGE, a local kegler, will be one of 12 bowlers competing for a regional title Sunday at Zanesville and a chance to be on a television bowling series in Ohio.

Savage, representing the Friendly Lanes, reeled off a 646 series to be one of the 12 winners at New Philadelphia last week. Some 200 bowlers competed in the district eliminations, with 12 surviving.

Zanesville is one of seven cities in the state holding regional eliminations. The seven winners would then qualify for the state title and a chance for a TV appearance and big prize money.

Conflicting Reports . . .

BEFORE Jim Owens, the righthander who is the property of the Houston Colts, became involved in an incident in Caracas, Venezuela, he was carrying a phenomenal .082 earned run average in the Winter League.

There were conflicting reports out of Caracas Wednesday. Owens claimed he fell on a beer bottle while in a bowling alley and cut his upper left leg. Police said Owens was stabbed in the lower abdomen during a barroom fight.

Still another story found an official of the Valencia baseball team, for whom Owens pitches, coming to his defense. The team's general manager insisted that Owens suffered a five-stitch cut on his left thigh when he slipped and fell at a swimming pool at the Club Internacional. A drinking glass Owens was holding shattered and caused the wound, he added.

Owens, taken to a hospital for treatment, later went into hiding.

Eddie Robinson, Houston Colt farm director, said Owens, who spends his off months in Midland, will be able to resume pitching for Valencia in a few days.

Hornung Set For Packers, Nobody Else, Coach Says

By JACK HAND

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Paul Hornung will play for the Green Bay Packers and nobody else if he is re-instated. Vince Lombardi, coach-general manager of the Packers, is very definite about this.

"Once again I will say that Paul Hornung will not be traded," said Lombardi at the close of the annual meetings of the National Football League. "I can not emphasize that too much. Any trade talk is ridiculous. I positively have no thought of trading him. If Hornung plays he will play for us."

You can't be more definite than that. All that remains now is for Commissioner Pete Rozelle to take action on Hornung and Alex Karras, Detroit's defensive tackle, who were suspended indefinitely a year ago for betting on pro football games.

The Detroit Lions, like the Packers, are including their suspended star in their plans for 1964 in the hope that he will be re-instated.

There has been no indication from Rozelle about the course of action he will follow. When the two were suspended, Rozelle said the indefinite suspension could be construed to mean at least one year.

"I will not start looking into the Hornung and Karras situation until late February," Rozelle told newsmen Thursday.

Both the Packers and Lions, of course, can make no definite moves until Rozelle makes up his mind.

Midland Eyes 16th; Tigers At Big Red

Midland can take another step closer to the Section 8 title. Wellsville jumps into the fire at Steubenville Big Red and East Liverpool and Salem, a couple of teams in the midst of a losing season, battle at Quakertown to lead off a 12-game schedule tonight.

Hank Kuzma will send his sharp Midland squad against the Bobcats at Beaver tonight in quest of its 10th straight League win and 16th victory of the season.

THE LEOPARDS passed what was to be their major test Tuesday night by walloping New Brighton with a rapid-fire second half rally.

Potters Try For 5th Win At Salem

Wellsville goes to Steubenville to meet a Big Red team that has only been beaten twice in 11 outings. Coach Walt Owens' club is coming off a defeat suffered last week at Warren, 69-54.

Cleveland East Tech is the only other team to hold a decision over Steubenville.

EAST LIVERPOOL will attempt to make it two straight over Salem. The Potters surprised the Quakers last season and this year's battle looks like an even one. Salem only can show a 2-10 record while East Liverpool has won four contests while dropping eight.

Coach Jim Harris doesn't have much choice but stick with the same lineup and hope the Potters can show some improvement on their shooting.

THE POTTERS hope to avenge an earlier season loss to Wellsville when the neighboring schools meet Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium. East Liverpool dropped a 56-52 decision in December at Wellsville.

Oak Glen returns home for the first time in two weeks to meet Wellsburg, a team the Golden Bears lost to in December. Coach Bob Starkey's Bears won one of three contests over a long weekend which saw them play three games in four days.

STREAKING United Local

will attempt to make it eight straight when Beaver Local travels to the Hanover school tonight. Coach Jack Mills has watched his team roll at a fast clip in the last month, as he is marking his return to coaching this season.

Lisbon will attempt to protect its Tri-County League lead tonight at Louisville. The Blue Devils whipped Louisville earlier this season, 49-39 at Lisbon.

COACH Gary Pike's team

shows a 7-1 mark with Poland and Louisville tied for second place at 6-2. It was Louisville which knocked Poland out of a tie for the lead last week.

Other Tri-County action lists East Palestine at Leetonia while last place Sebring visits Columbiana.

Southern Local is busy tonight and will be seeking its second straight over Jefferson Union at Richmond while Crestview entertains Western Reserve.

Pennsylvania warfare sends South Side to Snowden while Rochester visits Western Beaver.

Howard Bids For $10,000 Salary Hike

By MURRAY CHASS

Announcing the signing of a big-name baseball player is like revealing the coming marriage of two Hollywood movie stars.

It's aimed at getting almost as much publicity as the start of World War II and is accompanied by just about everything but a brass band playing "Take Me out to the Ball Game."

That's why the New York Yankees won't disclose until next week that they've reached a 1964 agreement with catcher Elston Howard, the American League's most valuable player.

A number of the Yankees, including Howard, manager Yogi Berra and general manager Ralph Houk, currently is on a promotional tour through several Eastern states. The tour is neither the time nor the place for the announcement. A big hole in New York would be more fitting.

Howard is expected to receive about $55,000, an increase of $10,000 over last year's salary, it was learned Thursday.

The raise is Howard's reward for carrying much of the offensive burden for the Yankees, who were without Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris a major part of last season.

Howard, who will be 34 Feb. 23, batted .287, hit 28 home runs and batted in 85 runs in his ninth major league season. The veteran from Teaneck, N.J., constantly came through in the clutch for New York while compiling a .994 fielding average.

Kingpetch Selected As Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Pone Kingpetch, the durable Thai who won the world flyweight title for the third time last week, was named the fighter-of-the-month for January by Ring magazine today.

Kingpetch outpointed Japan's Hiroyuki Ebihara Jan. 23. Ebihara dropped to the leading challenger's position.

In the latest ratings, Ring advanced Argentina's Gregorio Peralta from fifth to third among the lightweightweights. He defeated Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., in Madison Square Garden last Friday.

Thornton, on the strength of his fine showing, moved up to seventh, replacing Henry Hank of Detroit.

Sifford, Sanders Lead Palm Firing

By CHARLES MAHER

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — After the first round of the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic, Charlie Sifford was in first place tie with Tommy Jacobs.

After the second round, Sifford was tied for the lead with Doug Sanders.

Visiting the press room, tournament leaders customarily do at the end of each round, Sifford announced Thursday that he didn't feel fit to be tied again.

"I'll be back by myself tomorrow," Sifford promised newsmen after reviewing his one-under-par 71 in round two of the 90-hole event.

With 36-hole scores of 137, Sifford and Sanders were two shots ahead of their nearest rivals. Sifford shot a six-under-par 66 Wednesday and Sanders had rounds of 69 and 68. The tournament is being played on four different desert courses simultaneously. Par at each is 72.

There was a four-way tie at 139 among Bob Goalby, Bob Charles, Dean Refram and Gene Littler. Littler shot a 68 Thursday. Refram had a 69 and Goalby and Charles shot 72.

Jacobs, Zell Eaton and Don January were tied at 140. A stroke farther back were Bob Adams, Dick Hart, Dave Marr, George Knudson and Art Wall Jr.

East Junior Wins On Late Try By Smith

Vern Smith's field goal from about 15 feet out in the last second of an overtime period gave East Junior a 50-48 victory in a thriller Thursday at Toronto.

The two teams had played to a 42-42 tie at the end of regulation time.

The victory was the ninth in 10 starts for Coach Dom Cascio's five.

The Panthers took a 16-11 first quarter lead but fell behind 24-23 at halftime. East was on top again at the end of three periods, 36-28, but was outscored 14-6 in the final quarter.

Smith was the hero and leading scorer for East with 14 points. Jim Cooper collected 11 for the Panthers.

Symans, Toronto's 6-4 center, scored 25 points and Allen added 21 for the losers.

Westgaters Lose, 66-57, To Quakers

Westgate dropped its second game in 11 starts Thursday at Salem losing a 66-57 nod to the Quakers.

Salem led most of the way gaining a 16-13 first quarter lead and moving in front, 34-28 at halftime.

The high scoring contest saw four Salem eagers in the double figures with Tolson's 18 points leading the way.

Mike McVay and Dennis Smith who both fouled out in the fourth quarter, paced Westgate with a combined effort of 40 points. McVay scored 21 and Smith 19.

Westgate will attempt to gain revenge for its other loss this season meeting East Junior High next Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

Bearcats Beaten In Last Seconds

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Say, wouldn't it be something if the Drake Bulldogs snatched the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference out of the mouth of the Wichita Wheatshockers?

Far-fetched? Not if you consider that while Wichita whipped Cincinnati 62-59 Thursday night in college basketball's outstanding game of the night the Bulldogs were quietly waiting in the wings hoping no one would notice their six-game winning streak and 12.3 season record.

If the Bulldogs keep going the way they have and win the MVC title it would be one of the most stunning reversals in collegiate annals. Last year the Bulldogs finished last in the MVC with a 3-9 league mark and 11-14 over-all.

Wichita, now 7-0 in the MVC, beat Drake 67-49 on Jan. 4, but since then the Bulldogs, led by Gene Bogash of Winamac, Ind., have defeated Purdue, Bradley, New Mexico State, Cincinnati, Air Force and Iowa State.

While the Bulldogs, currently 2-1 in the MVC, were keeping their fingers crossed hoping for a Wichita defeat, the Wheatshockers capitalized on a break to turn back Cincinnati.

A turnout of 10,700 at Wichita saw the Wheatshockers turn apparent defeat into victory in the last 14 seconds. Down 59-56, a layup by Wichita's Dave Stallworth cut the deficit to one point. Then came the big break for Wichita.

Cincinnati put the ball in play, but the Bearcat player who took the pass-in accidentally stepped out of bounds. Wichita took the pass-in accidentally sneaked in a layup to put the Shockers ahead 60-59. Stallworth, the game's high scorer with 24 points, added the final two points on free throws at the very end.

The closing second heroics upped the record of the nationally seventh-ranked Shockers to 15-3 and wiped out the last faint hopes the Bearcats had of winning their seventh straight MVC crown.

Duke, No. 8 in The Associated Press poll, downed South Carolina 80-67 and Villanova, No. 6, romped over American U. 84-49 in other games involving the AP's Top Ten.

Russians Out To Dominate Games After Skate Sweep

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—It is crystal clear today that Russia is on the way to dominating the ninth Winter Olympics even more decisively than it did the last time around.

The Soviets scored a clean sweep of the first three places in the ladies' 500 meter speed skating. Last time Russia got only second place.

Russia has the gold medal for figure skating pairs. Last time sixth place was the best the Russians did.

Russia took third in the men's 30 kilometer cross country ski race, just as it did in 1960, and failed to do anything in the men's downhill, just as it did before.

All this adds up to two gold medals, one silver, and two bronze for the Russians in two days of competition—compared to one silver and one bronze at the same stage in 1960.

Newly crowned Olympic champions are Egon Zimmerman, Austria, men's downhill, 2:18.16, a course record (there are no Olympic or world records in ski races because each course varies); Lidia Skoblikova, Russia, women's 500 meter speed skating, :45.0, an Olympic record; and Eero Maetynanta, Finland, men's 30 kilometer cross country skiing, 1:30:50.7, fastest time ever in international competition. Olog Protopopov and Ludmilla Belousova won the pairs figure skating for Russia on opening day.

Thursday's day of glory for Russia was one of bitter disappointment for the United States.

The United States had high hopes for its downhill skiers, but Ni Orsi's 14th place was the best the Americans did. The 19-year-old lad from Stockton, Calif., skidded off the ideal line at the first left turn, swung too wide, and was thrown out of line to the next gate.

Jeanne Ashworth of Lake Placid, N.Y., and Janice Smith, of Rochester, N.Y., who had looked strong in pre-Olympic tests, managed to tie for fourth place in the women's 500 meter speed skating at :46.2, although they hoped for better.

Two more medals were at stake today, in the ladies 1,500 meter speed skating and in the special Nordic ski jumping on a 70-meter hill.

The match was a fight throughout for Coach Rey Peduzzi's team which now sports a 6-2-1 mark. The Potters won four bouts while three others finished in draws.

Bill Smith decided Arnold 6-0 in the 123-pound class and Bob Francis (135) was a 7-0 winner. Ralph Smith scored a

Taylor's Pin Gives ELHS Wrestlers Draw At Weir

In wrestling you can win, lose or draw and the Potters came out with a 20-20 draw at Weirton Thursday.

Heavyweight Chuck Taylor turned an apparent defeat into a deadlock when he pinned Weirton's Cohilli in 2:20 in the final match to give the Potters their 20 points.

Young Oak Glen Matmen Lose At Big Red, 42-8

Oak Glen's wrestling forces fell victim to Steubenville Big Red, 42-8, Thursday at Steubenville.

The loss was the third in five matches for Oak Glen which is competing in the sport for the first time this season.

Steubenville won 10 of 12 matches but Bill Miller lost a close 5-2 decision in the 133-pound match and Dave Price dropped a 5-4 decision at 120 with both bouts decided by riding time.

Oak Glen victories came at 165 and 145. Steve Harris (165) continued undefeated as he registered his sixth straight win by pinning Joyce in 4:55. Rick Hindes decided Coyne 2-0 in the 145-pound match.

Oak Glen will host Brilliant Wednesday at 7:30 at the Chester High gym.

Komives Leads Scorers, But Defense Stirs Praise

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—"He's one of the greatest defensive basketball players I have ever coached."

That description doesn't sound like one associated with the nation's leading scorer but that's one verse Harold Anderson, a dean of college basketball, sings about Bowling Green's Howard (Butch) Komives.

The quiet 6-foot-1 Komives set a personal record 43 points Saturday against neighboring rival Findlay College to climb back to the top of the torrid national scoring race with a 33.6 average.

"He's one of the greatest all-around players I've ever seen in my 29 years of coaching," Anderson continued. For 21 of those years Anderson has tutored at Bowling Green State University. However, he retired as coach after last season but remains as athletic director.

Warren Scholler, the new Bee Gee cage coach, says he usually puts Komives on the opposition's top scorer and in most instances that man is in for a bad evening.

"The Notre Dame game this year was Butch's greatest," Scholler recalled. "We put him on Larry Sheffield who had scored 41 points the game before against Indiana."

Sheffield wound up with nine points and Komives poured in 41.

Both Scholler and Anderson talk in superlatives about the quiet 22-year-old senior's dedication to the game. He's on the court at every free minute.

A sports writer found Komives alone on the floor Christmas Eve pumping in his jumping left-hand shots. Christmas day he was back on the court.

This week was exam week at Bowling Green and no practice was scheduled — but Komives was at it with passersby through the gymnasium serving as ball retrievers.

DeWitt Using Pension Plan To Sign Players

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bill DeWitt, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is using the ballplayers' pension plan as bait in signing some 1964 contracts.

He keeps telling the players they can't pass up this sort of a deal.

"I point out that the pension plan is the finest in the world; that a player can begin collecting a minimum $125.50 a month on only five years' service in the major leagues and that when he is only 50 years old."

"Just think of this: A player at 65 with 20 years' service will receive $723.25 a month."

During a player's active life, he has a life insurance policy of $40,000. Even after he retires, a $20,000 life insurance policy is still his.

"Since the pension fund began, $27,500,000 have been paid into it and the players' share is considerably less than 10 percent," DeWitt said.

The Reds had some whopping salaries in 1963 and some of the players getting these are scheduled for reduced pay.

DeWitt Thursday signed Frank Robinson, veteran outfielder and the highest-salaried player in Reds history. He got a salary estimated as high as $60,000 last year.

Robbie took a cut after the worst season he had experienced since joining Cincinnati in 1956.

Besides Robinson, other Reds due for possible pay reductions are pitchers Bob Purkey and Joey Jay. Pitchers Jim Maloney, Joe Nuxhall and John Tsitouris probably will get raises.

Lefty Jim O'Toole is bargaining with DeWitt. He believes his 17-14 record last year is worth a raise.

Purkey and Jay had arm and shoulder troubles. Purkey, 23-5 in 1962, had a 6-10 record in 1963. Jay dropped from 21-14 to a 7-18 record last year.

Johnny Edwards, the best young catcher to come to the National League in years, has been signed and was given a raise. Vada Pinson, brilliant centerfielder, also reported received a substantial pay boost.

Hutch Looks For Another Tight Race For NL Clubs

By FRED HUTCHINSON
Cincinnati Reds
SEATTLE (AP)—I believe the National League pennant race in 1964 will be a tight, dog-eat-dog battle right down to the wire as it has been in the past several seasons.

We could be improved. We had good pitching last year. Jim Maloney, 23-7; Jim O'Toole, 17-14; Joe Nuxhall, 15-8, and John Tsitouris, 12-8, came through for us. Bob Purkey, 6-10, and Joey Jay, 7-18, did not measure up to their fine 1962 efforts, but still our pitching was not bad and I look for improvement in that department.

Our relief pitching wasn't as productive as it should have been. At times, it was all right but it was not consistent. Too many times it was downright shaky. We lost a lot of games in the late innings that we would have won with better relief pitching.

We fell down in other departments, too, both defensively and offensively. Gordy Coleman at first fell off in his batting, home runs and run production. So did Leo Cardenas at shortstop. We had a season long problem at third base.

And Frank Robinson, our big power man, batted only .259, far down for such a hitter. In fairness to Robby, he was hampered by injuries. He was sidelined from time to time and went to bat 482 times, compared to 609 at bats in 1962.

I look for Robby to make a comeback in 1964. He is too good a hitter to have a second straight off year. And I think we will be better at third base. There should be a mad scramble for the regular job.

We have Chico Ruiz, who did so well at San Diego; Tommy Harper, who played the outfield for us last year; and Deron Johnson, who led the Pacific Coast League in home runs with San Diego last year. Harper played third base at San Diego in 1962.

We did have some bright spots in 1962. Vada Pinson had a real fine season, leading the club in batting and just about all other offensive departments. He is still young and should have his best years ahead.

We were fortunate also to have two rookies come through for us—Pete Rose, who batted .273 and played exceedingly well in the field to win the NL Rookie of the Year honors, and Harper, who batted .260 but was coming on at the end.

Other Sports Seeking Anti-Trust Exemptions

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Professional basketball and hockey appealed to Congress today for the same exemptions from anti-trust law now permitted baseball.

J. Walter Kennedy, president of the National Basketball Association, and Clarence S. Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, made their pitch in testimony prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee. Campbell said he also spoke for the American, Western and Central hockey leagues.

Both endorsed a bill sponsored by the subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to spell out the exemptions for pro baseball, basketball hockey and football.

The subcommittee received a chorus of approving testimony Thursday for the bill from manor and minor league baseball executives.

The subcommittee also was told that Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, wants a chance to be heard by the subcommittee.

"He will be heard," Hart said in announcing that Finley has asked for the right to state his case.

Finley is in hot water with the American League and threatening to sue it over his thus far unsuccessful efforts to move the Athletics to either Louisville, Ky., or Oakland, Calif.

Hart announced that American League President Joe Cronin and National League President Warren Giles will be heard along with Finley, but the senator announced no date. Senate debates on taxes and civil rights are expected to immobilize most committees from holding further hearings for a period of weeks starting Monday.

Racial Strife Grips Several Areas Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Racial disorders erupted in several sections of the nation Thursday.

About 200 women and children on relief picketed officials at Chicago in protest of recent relief cuts. The pickets said they do not have enough to eat.

Two women fainted during the demonstrations and the Rev. Henry Mitchell, organizer of the march, said they were hungry. Most of the demonstrators were Negroes.

Fifty of the women and children sat in at the State of Illinois building while the rest trooped a block to the City Hall, chanting: "We want food. We want jobs."

In New York, final plans were made for a one-day boycott of the nation's largest public school system. The boycott Monday will be to protest segregation in some classes.

In Alabama, the state Board of Education ordered the immediate closing of previously white Tuskegee High School, where only 12 Negroes now attend classes.

The 250 white pupils who went to the school before it was desegregated under court order refused to go to classes with the Negroes. They enrolled in a new private school across the street or transferred to other high schools.

The Alabama board also adopted a rule requiring approval of a local school board and the state board before any nonresident pupil can be enrolled in any public school in the state. This rule would hit hardest at areas near military installations.

Demonstrations against segregated facilities were discontinued temporarily in Atlanta, where nearly 300 arrests were made in a five-day period.

Elsewhere on the racial scene: Hattiesburg, Miss. — A minister was fined and given a 30-day jail sentence on a charge of disobeying an officer during a civil rights demonstration.

Ann Arbor, Mich. — A barber was charged with violating Michigan's equal accommodations law by allegedly refusing to cut a Negro's hair.

Hays Assails Ohio BUC Administrator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willard P. Dudley, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, has been assailed by an Ohio congressman for releasing information "as phony as a Confederate three-dollar bill."

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, referred Thursday in a letter to Dudley to recent released by Dudley's department in which delayed fraudulent practices were discussed. Hays told Dudley such claims are phony "and you know it."

The congressman also said Dudley is trying to recoup from the federal government $174,233 which the Ohio Legislature cut from the bureau's program.

Man Found Innocent Of Bank Robbery Plot

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury Thursday night found Charles Mulligan, Youngstown barber, innocent of attempted robbery of a branch bank at Alliance.

Government attorneys argued that Mulligan, 30, and two other men kidnaped an official of the College Park Branch of the First National Bank of Alliance and forced him to drive to the bank and open the vault on March 26, 1962. They said the three men were scared away by a police cruiser after putting more than $1,000 in a bag.

Logan Wins National Traffic Safety Award

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Efforts to assure clear visibility at intersections, safety programs, and cooperation among public officials, police, residents and the schools earned Logan the National Safety Council's outstanding traffic safety achievement award, the State Highway Safety Department says.

Administrative staff member Edwin G. Lawton of the Highway Safety Department presented the award to Logan officials recently.

Claimed In France

CHICAGO (AP) — Leander J. McCormick, 76, grandson of one of the founders of the International Harvester Co., died Wednesday in St. Tropez, France, where he has lived since 1947.

Most successful Big Ten conversions on one game last year were five. Dave Fronek of Wisconsin made five extra points against Purdue, and so did Jim Plankenhorn of Illinois.

Cardamon - Pecan Pancakes Hit The Spot

Sleepy heads arise!! There's a delicious surprise for breakfast. It's a popular old-time favorite with a new flavor — Cardamon-Pecan pancakes.

Delicate, fluffy pancakes, with the intriguing flavor of cardamon, and crunchy, chopped pecans with Cardamon-Maple syrup should stimulate the most reluctant risers.

An adequate breakfast is important and the best way to entice breakfast skippers and give them a nutritious start for the day is to give them a meal they can't resist.

Cardamon-Pecan Pancakes

Make 2 - cup recipe for pancakes as directed on Butter-Milk Pancake package, except add ½ tsp. powdered cardamon and ½ cup finely chopped pecans to batter. Serve 2 or 3 pancakes, stacked together with Cardamon Maple Syrup (below). Makes 6 to 9 servings.

Cardamon - Maple Syrup: Heat 1 cup maple - flavored syrup with ½ tsp. powdered cardamon and 1 tbsp. butter.

Civil Rights Bill Reaches House Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill launched last summer at the height of Negro demonstrations reaches the House floor today.

At least a week of debate and wrangling over amendments facing the House before a vote is taken on the omnibus measure aimed at strengthening federal authority to deal with racial discrimination wherever it exists.

Shaped by a bipartisan group and strongly backed by Democratic and Republican House leaders, it is expected to emerge from the House in fairly good shape, ready for the tougher struggle awaiting it in the Senate.

Ten hours have been set aside for general debate and the House will meet again Saturday in hopes of using them all up by Saturday night and starting on the amendments Monday. Under House rules each member is entitled to speak for five minutes on any amendment.

The Republicans, most of whom plan to leave town to attend Lincoln Day rallies the week starting Feb. 9, would like to complete action on the bill by next Friday. The leadership has said only that a final vote will come by Feb. 11.

The bill is the most sweeping in the field of civil rights to come before Congress in a century and Southerners are prepared to mount the oratorical breastworks to oppose it.

In hearings and press releases they have condemned the bill as a destroyer of civil rights for all and as "the greatest grasp for executive power conceived in the 20th Century."

Three provisions in particular are certain to draw the heaviest fire, and with many Republicans also having reservations about them, are the most susceptible to amendment.

These provisions would ban racial discrimination in hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters, sports arenas and other places generally open to the public; create an equal employment opportunity commission to investigate complaints of racial discrimination in employment practices and seek redress in the courts for violations; and empower federal agencies to cut off funds for programs or activities in which states discriminate among the recipients on the basis of race.

Other provisions are aimed at securing voting rights of Negroes, speeding school desegregation, giving new duties and permanent status to the Civil Rights Commission and ending segregation in public parks, playgrounds and other government-operated facilities.

City Woman To Seat Officers Of GOP Club

The Mid-Country Republican Club will have a "dessert meeting" Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon and Miss Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, county chairwoman, will install officers for 1964.

Mrs. Ray Davies, program chairman, has also planned a roundtable discussion program on "Group Politics." All area Republicans are invited.

Best Big Ten field goal day for an individual last season was turned in by Pete Stamison of Northwestern. He booted three field goals against Miami of Ohio.

Bylaws Adopted By Parks Group

LISBON — Bylaws were adopted when the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council met Thursday night in the County Extension Service Office with 29 attending.

A report was made on the restoration work at Gaston's Mill in Beaver Creek State Park and any individual or organization desiring to contribute to the project may send the contributions to Floyd Lower of Lisbon, treasurer.

A committee of the council will meet with Fred Morr, director of the Department of Natural Resources, in Columbus Feb. 17 concerning plans for development of Beaver Creek State Park.

Next meeting of the council will be held Feb. 27 at the same location and the annual meeting for election of council officers will be held March 26, place and time to be announced.

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers is chairman and president.

Snowplow Purchased For Center Township

LISBON — Center Township trustees Thursday night agreed to purchase a new 10-foot reversible truck - mounted snowplow for $900 from the Allied Highway Equipment Co. of Canton.

The price includes trade-in of an old snowplow.

The group discussed the convention of the State Trustees' and Clerks' Association last week in Columbus. Bills totaling $1,700 were ordered paid.

Next meeting will be Feb. 14 at 7 p.m. in the office in the Farmers Bank Building.

Labor 'Warm' To Johnson's Wages Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal to create more jobs in some industries by imposing double overtime pay rates won warm labor support today, but reaction in Congress was split.

Speedy hearings were promised in the House, but Chairman Lister Hill of the Senate Labor Committee expressed doubt the proposed legislation would boost employment.

The Johnson proposal would be a long step toward labor's demands for double overtime and a 35-hour work week as measures to reduce chronic unemployment that now stands at 4 million.

Johnson opposes the 35 - hour week, but an AFL-CIO spokesman said his overtime proposal was a major attack on a principal cause of the high jobless rate.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz estimates more than 900,000 jobs could be created by discouraging overtime and encouraging the hiring of new employees.

Johnson's proposal would authorize the secretary of labor to set up tripartite labor-management-public committees to recommend which industries and conditions would require the double overtime rates.

Johnson also sent to Congress legislation to extend overtime and minimum wage protection to more than 2 million additional workers. The proposals were in the form of amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Hearing Continued

WEIRTON — A hearing slated this morning in Municipal Court for Claude B. Emery, 47, and his wife, Eileen, 37, of Hammondsville, charged with shoplifting and contributing to the delinquency of a minor in warrants filed by the manager of Jim's Bargain Store on Saturday, was continued by Judge Martin S. Bogard until Wednesday. The warrants allege theft of topcoats.

3,400 Marines Available For Cyprus Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has twice as many Marines as usual in the Mediterranean, it was learned today.

Thus, there are about 3,400 Leathernecks and two amphibious task forces available for use in Cyprus if a decision is made to send in a peacekeeping expedition representing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Such a move has been rumored for some time, but the White House says President Johnson has made no final decision.

Press aide Andrew Hatcher told newsmen Thursday that Cyprus was one of several subjects discussed by the President and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in the afternoon.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was summoned to the White House for an early evening conference, presumably to cover the same ground.

The presence of two reinforced Marine battalion landing teams in the Mediterranean at this time is coincidental.

One six-ship amphibious force with its 1,700-man battalion has arrived there from the Atlantic Coast to replace another force of similar size that has been on duty in the Mediterranean since early last fall.

This is a normal rotation, but like the Lebanon crisis in 1958, it comes at what could be a convenient time.

The two amphibious task forces are equipped with landing craft and helicopters to carry the Marines ashore.

Normally, one battalion landing team is with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean at all times. The mission of the 6th Fleet is to be ready to deal with crises in that volatile part of the world on short notice. The fleet musters about 50 ships, 25,000 men and 200 planes.

$115,000 Judgment Ruled As Excessive

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A $115,000 judgment a Common Pleas Court jury awarded Douglas Yerrick, 21, of Uniontown for an eye injury has been ruled excessive by the 9th District Court of Appeals. The court ruled Thursday that the case must be retried unless Yerrick accepts $90,000 for loss of vision in his right eye.

Yerrick sued East Ohio Gas Co. for $200,000 following an auto-truck collision near Hartsville in September 1961.

Travel Pay OK'd

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Thursday approved travel allowances for seven members of the Columbiana County Soldier Relief Commission to attend the Ohio State Association convention Feb. 7-9 at Columbus. The commissioners will meet Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

VINTAGE CONTINENTALS FOR SALE

How much will it cost you to become the owner of a Lincoln Continental? For a used Continental, probably less than you would expect for so fine a luxury automobile.

You can scarcely tell that it is not brand-new. The classic look has not changed. The car has been restored to prime condition in both appearance and performance. Why not make this your year to move up to a LINCOLN CONTINENTAL 1962 ONLY $3895.

It's wise to buy your used car where quality and value are traditional

As a Cadillac dealership, we sell the world's finest automobiles. It's only natural, then, that we take in some mighty fine cars in trade. For the finest used car selection in town, drop in and inspect the models in our lot. Many of these are late model Cadillacs which we sold originally and have serviced regularly. Whatever the make, you may be assured that every used car we sell is in tip-top condition and a genuinely outstanding value. We look forward to your visit. We think you'll be delighted you came.

... AND HERE ARE A FEW OF THE REASONS WHY!

1963 Cadillac Coupe DeVille, dark blue with a contrasting vinyl top. Full power, plus electric windows, 6-way power seat, and factory installed air conditioning, ask to see stock no. 4120-A.

1962 Cadillac 4 door sedan model 6239. Turquoise finish with matching interior and all the power accessories that make Cadillac a prize to own. Ask to see stock no. P-130.

1960 Cadillac 2 door hardtop coupe with a white finish and a matching black and white interior. Low mileage, previous owner has taken exceptionally good care of this car. A dream to own. Ask to see stock no. 4118-A.

1960 Cadillac 4 door sedan with a white finish and a black and white interior. This car has very low mileage and is in extremely good condition. Ask to see stock no. 4121-A.
